No Tax Increases In B.C. Next Year Pattullo States

Government Now Completing Provincial Budget for 1937-38; Larger Expenditure Planned As Revenues Rise

Salary Scales To Be Changed

"There will not be any increases in taxes," Premier Pattullo said today when questioned if any changes in taxation are proposed by the B.C. Government in the 1937-38 budget which will go before the Legislature next month.

The Premier made this statement after a cabinet session lasting two and a half hours in which the final details of the budget were discussed. He also confirmed forecasts that the new budget would show an increase in the government's current expenditures.

This, he explained, was due to the drastic reduction in services effected by the former administration when revenues were falling off at a rapid rate.

Now that revenues are recovering the government is able to take care of a greater amount of services without raising taxes, he indicated.

Figures given by the Minister of Finance in his last budget show the following as overall expenditures during the last four years, exclusive of debt redemption and unemployment relief costs:

1933-34	$19,997,084
1934-35	$21,003,791
1935-36	$22,185,202
1936-37 (estimated)	$23,006,842

In addition to this the province has set aside out of income in each year some $400,000 for debt redemption so that the total budget expenditures out of revenue for the current year were placed at $24,192,594.

Rearrangement of social service costs to lighten the burden on municipal treasuries will add to this some $1,000,000 in the next budget and additional expenditures for road maintenance are also planned, it is understood.

A readjustment of salaries within the provincial service is now being worked out, the Premier indicated. This is to bring about a more equitable scale as between different positions.

Anthrax Menace In Washington

Men Who Burned 900 Carcasses of Sheep in North Central Region of State Are Quarantined; Other Flocks Examined

Associated Press
Waterville, Wash., Oct. 23.—Fear of the dread anthrax spread through the sheep camps of the north central Washington region today while smoldering embers marked the scattered pyres where 900 carcasses were burned throughout the night.

State veterinary Philip Patrick ordered cremation after he had come here yesterday and decided anthrax, rather than poison weeds, had caused the sheep to drop like apples in the orchard where they had grazed.

The veterinary took carcasses to the Washington State College last night for a further analysis by veterinarians. He awaited word today on the outcome.

"If the college experts agree that it is anthrax," Sheriff Harry Smith said, "we will burn the pyres which were stripped from the dead sheep. The remaining 100 or more sheep of the Maple & Knox flock also will be condemned. They seem sickly."

The men who skinned the carcasses are being kept in a kind of a quarantine at their camp near Orofino.

He said forty sheep had died in the herd of George Harter of Kahlotus,

Simpson Divorce Hearing Soon

Expected Trial of Suit at Ipswich, Eng., Will Start October 27

Associated Press
Ipswich, Suffolk, Eng., Oct. 23.—Mrs. Wallis Simpson's divorce suit heads a list of seven which will be heard by Mr. Justice Hawke at the Ipswich assizes, beginning tomorrow.

The American "born society woman's" suit against her husband, Ernest Aldrich Simpson, was listed merely as "Simpson versus Simpson." It had first position under the heading "Matrimonial cases undefended." No details were given. The lawyers were listed as Theodore Goddard and Company, for Mrs. Simpson, and Middleton, Lewis and Company for her husband.

It was considered unlikely the case would be reached before October 27, since customary procedure is to dispose first of criminal actions, of which there are fifteen on the docket.

Armed Guards at Brussels Stations

Belgium Moves to Prevent Rixists From Holding Big Demonstration

Canadian Press from Havas
Brussels, Oct. 23.—Armed police patrols were stationed at highways and railway terminals today to prevent Leon Degrelle's Fascist-inclined Rixists from entering the capital for a projected Sunday mass meeting in defiance of a government ban.

The police were instructed to prevent the Rixists from entering the capital on trucks or special trains. Premier Paul Van Zeeland ordered all troops in the Brussels garrison to remain in their barracks Sunday.

IN HONOR OF VETERANS
Ignoring the government measures for halting the meeting, Degrelle issued detailed plans for the Rixist gathering. He said tens of thousands of his followers would arrive in the capital on regular trains today and tomorrow. Degrelle said the Rixists would participate in ceremonies in honor of the veterans of the Year.

Belgian leftist organizations said plans to break up the Rixist meeting, under the rallying cry, "They shall not pass."

No Agreement By Japan on Fishing Off Coast of B.C.

Observers in Tokio Say Government There Not Ready to Accept Any Restriction of Operations in Open Seas Off This Province and Alaska

Canadian Press Cable via Reuters
Tokio, Oct. 23.—Observers here today expressed belief the Japanese government has no intention of concluding an international agreement restricting fisheries in open seas if approached by the Canadian or United States government.

It was recalled that Canadian fisheries interests were alarmed by experimental fishing by the Japanese off the British Columbia coast last summer. Fears were expressed the Japanese possibly were fishing for red salmon, but in reality, it was said here, they experimentally fished for crabs.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce sent a communication to Mrs. McClung some time ago requesting her help in having Victoria linked up with the world.

Police Files to Remain Secret

Plain Now in Vancouver Investigator Tucker Will Not See Accounts

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 23.—Secret files at the Vancouver police station are definitely not to be submitted to examination by W. A. Tucker, diminutive special investigator of the police commission.

At a special meeting of the commission here late yesterday Mr. Tucker's duties were outlined by Judge J. N. Ellis and Magistrate E. S. Wood, who said he would be dealt with by the commission if he did not carry out his duties under terms of the resolution by which he was appointed.

"It's the silliest piece of business I ever heard of," Magistrate Wood said, referring to Tucker's attempts to get access to private files of the department.

"It's the outside of the files, not their contents, that he should be interested in," the magistrate said. "It's the system of filing, not the files themselves that he should be attending to and if he can't do this he should say so."

FOR ALL FILES
Mr. Tucker said he could do this, but was under the impression he had been given full authority to gain access to the files.

MADRID GUNS SHELL PLANES

Terrified Women Run Through Streets During Raid

Associated Press
Madrid, Oct. 23.—Machine-gunning Fascist airplanes in their daytime raids on Madrid swooped over the capital four times today while terrified women ran through the streets.

Anti-aircraft guns kept up an incessant roar from the roofs of the besieged city. The damage, however, was stated to be negligible and government leaders believed the repeated raids were intended merely to demoralize Madrid.

No attempt was made to bomb the city proper although one or two fighting planes sprayed the brick walls of the Montana Barracks, scene of a short-lived rebellion on the first day of the war, with machine-gun fire.

Residents of the area scurried for cover as the plane swooped down amid bursting anti-aircraft shells. Later it dropped several small bombs in open fields northwest of Madrid.

LEAFLETS DROPPED

The first visit was at 8:30 a.m., when two bombers circled high over the city, dropping leaflets demanding surrender of the capital. Anti-aircraft guns atop the Ministry of War and at other points came into action, but the bombers were flying too high to be reached.

BOMBS AT AIRPORT

The bombers then flew to the outskirts of Madrid, where they were joined by several pursuit planes. Drooping low over Cuatro Vientos airport on the edge of the capital, the planes dropped several small bombs.

The second visit was at 10:15 a.m., when two pursuit planes flew over the city and thence to the south.

The third visit, at 1:10 p.m., was much shorter than the others, and included the Montana Barracks attack (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Alberta Flier in Britain Killed

Canadian Who Joined Royal Air Force Last Spring Killed in Crash

Canadian Press from Havas
Peterborough, Eng., Oct. 23.—Flying Officer William Dyer Coppinger of Alberta was killed in an airplane accident near the Peterborough airport today. Coppinger's plane and another collided during a formation flight. Coppinger managed to leap free from his craft, but was unable to open his parachute.

W. D. Coppinger, a native of Colonsay, Sask., received flying instruction in the Edmonton and Northern Alberta Aero Club. The twenty-three-year-old aviator obtained his private license in December, 1935, and last spring, along with half a dozen other youthful fliers from Edmonton district, left for England to join the Royal Air Force.

The Coppinger family moved to Cadomin, Alta., from Colonsay several years ago, and William attended the Cadomin High School. His parents still reside in Cadomin.

As "Hands-off-Spain" Committee Meets in London Moscow Spokesmen Say Madrid Government Must Have Right to Purchase Arms Abroad as Do All Other Governments; Not Known Yet Whether Soviet Will Ship Munitions to Loyalists

Associated Press
Moscow, Oct. 23.—Soviet Russia tonight announced her virtual withdrawal from the European "Hands off Spain" agreement, declaring she could not consider herself bound to a greater extent than the other participants.

Although she announced she would not consider herself "tied to the non-intervention agreement or to any oath of the participants," Russia, official sources said, is not actually bolting the agreement.

Rather, these sources explained, the Soviets are claiming for themselves the same right to supply the Spanish Government with arms, as they say, is enjoyed by Germany, Italy and Portugal with the other side.

Whether Russia actually will ship munitions to Spain was not made clear and it was stated the Soviet Union is retaining a voice in the Non-Intervention Committee, even though she has stepped outside of its provisions.

SOVIET MEANS TO AVOID WAR

But at London Russia Insists Arms Be Kept From Spanish Insurgents

Associated Press
London, Oct. 23.—European "hands off Spain" delegates worked on in silent, secret session tonight—an hour after Russia had let the world know she would determine for herself her policy toward the war on the Iberian Peninsula.

The Soviet decision, interpreted as virtual if not actual withdrawal from the Non-Intervention Committee, was made public first in Moscow, then in London.

The Soviet delegate, Ambassador Ivan M. Maisky and M. Kagan, still were sitting with the committee shortly before 8 o'clock this evening.

PROOF SUPPLIED
Russia has contended she has definite proof three other participants in the agreement, Italy, Germany and Portugal, have aided the Spanish insurgents with war materials.

Her announcement came while the Non-Intervention Committee, in London, was in the midst of a secret session considering charges and counter-charges of neutrality breaches.

"SCRAP OF PAPER"
A communication handed to Lord Plymouth, British chairman of the neutrality group, by Ivan M. Maisky, the Soviet Ambassador at London, stated the neutrality agreement had become a torn-up scrap of paper.

It asserted other governments must have the right to supply arms to the constituted government of Spain, and that the Spanish Government must have a right to purchase arms abroad.

VAGUELY WORDED
Ambassador Maisky's communication was vaguely phrased. It was, therefore, not immediately clear as to Russia's exact intentions.

Competent observers, however, believed the Soviets had taken upon themselves the right to supply arms to Madrid.

The Maisky document was a bitter denunciation of alleged Fascist violations of the agreement which, the Russian diplomat said, had prolonged the Spanish war and cost many lives.

"The Soviet government," Ambassador Maisky told Lord Plymouth, "does not desire any longer to hold itself responsible for the present situation, which is obviously unfair to the legal Spanish government and citizenry, and hereby is compelled to (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Relating of all property that has been reverted to the city in recent years will be recommended to the City Council by the lands committee as the result of action taken at a meeting of the committee yesterday.

The plan to bring the listings up to date and revise prices was understood to be the forerunner of a vigorous campaign to bring the property back on the tax lists.

The present rolls are reported obsolete, and action is required to tabulate all properties now on the city's hands. The pursuance of the sales campaign is not expected in the immediate future, but may be undertaken next year, it was understood.

European peace—and as a concession to French suggestions, the pact should be guaranteed by Italy and Great Britain.

In Rome, informed sources said the Italian-German protocol would include far-reaching decisions for a united front on the Locarno pact, the League of Nations, the Austrian and Danubian questions, Italian-German economic relations, a campaign against Bolshevism, and refusal to recognize any other than the Fascist (insurgent) government in Spain.

ON DEFENSIVE

In Paris, sources close to the French Foreign Office described the German plan as an astute move to put France on the defensive diplomatically.

"If France should sign such a pact," one official said, "she would be unable to help Russia against Germany in accordance with the Franco-Soviet alliance. If she should refuse, she would be held up to the world by Germany as unwilling to make up their bloody quarrels."

British Debate Soon On Plane Charges

When Parliament Meets Air Secretary Is Expected to Reply to Lord Nuffield's Accusation of Politics

Canadian Press
London, Oct. 23.—A reply from Viscount Swinton, Secretary of State for Air, when Parliament re-assembles was looked for today following Baron Nuffield's statement criticizing "political interests in the air ministry."

Lord Nuffield's statement last night explained why Viscount Swinton, one of his companies, had withdrawn from the government's "shadow" plan to build six factories for the manufacture of airplane engines for the Royal Air Force.

The plan called for the manufacture in one factory of crankshafts, in another of cylinders, and so on. Lord Nuffield contended the scheme was unworkable. The bombardment in war-time of a single factory would upset the whole plan.

STATEMENT IN 1929

Lord Nuffield outlined long standing strain between himself and the Air Ministry. In 1929, he said, he had made the statement in conversation that the Air Ministry was paying prices for airplane engines which, in his experienced judgment, were too high. "Political interests in the Air Ministry," he added, heard of the statement and thereafter his advice to the authorities "had been characterized by complete lack of support."

Relating how he had made an offer to Lord Swinton two months ago to obtain at his own expense, designs

U.S. Planes for Britain Rumored

Air Ministry Declines to Comment on Report Orders to Be Placed

London, Oct. 23.—The Air Ministry has declined so far to make any statement regarding reports planes would be purchased for the Royal Air Force in the United States and Canada.

An Associated Press dispatch from London yesterday evening said information from "a reliable source" was that Great Britain was planning to purchase United States aircraft for the Royal Air Force because domestic production had been unable to keep up with the country's rearmament programme.

One unconfirmed report said 300 planes already had been ordered in the United States.

DESIGN UNCERTAIN

The Air Ministry had not yet decided, it was reported, whether to ask American manufacturers to turn out planes along lines, similar to the United States army and navy machines or to follow British designs.

A London cable to The New York Times yesterday said the first orders would be for twin-engine and single-engine light bombers, and were expected to go to the Martin and Curtiss-Wright companies, both of which have large plants standing idle.

According to The New York World-Telegram, Guy W. Vaughn, president of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation, denied his company was negotiating with the British government.

Hayes reported there were rumors in London the Air Ministry had placed orders for 300 planes with Canadian branches of United States firms. The planes would be shipped directly to England from the Dominion, it was said.

H. E. Ross Dies At Prince Albert

Canadian Press
Prince Albert, Sask., Oct. 23.—Harry E. Ross, seventy-seven, who came west in 1879 as a member of the Northwest Mounted Police, and played a role in the 1885 Riel Rebellion, died today.

While scouting, Ross was captured by Riel's forces on the morning of the Duck Lake fight, the first battle of the rebellion. Held until the rebellion collapsed, Ross was liberated after the battle of Batoche.

He attributed to the timely intervention of Louis Riel the saving of his life after he was captured. Riel's lieutenant ordered Ross to be shot, but just as the execution was about to be carried out Riel rode up and ordered the lives of Ross and other prisoners spared.

"For what purpose?" Magistrate Wood asked.

"To make a report on every phase of the Department," Mr. Tucker replied.

ACCOUNTING SYSTEM

"We ask a man how to improve the accounting system and he fiddles around for six or eight months and then asks the chief of police for access to these secret files," the magistrate said at another point, referring to secret files which Police Chief W. Foster had refused to allow Tucker to see.

"He still doesn't understand we want a report on filing and accounting systems at the police station."

FALSIFICATION CHARGE

Chief of Police Foster described as "deliberate falsification" a statement made to the police committee by Tucker previously that he had reported certain matters to Superintendent H. Darling during the chief's absence.

"Superintendent Darling tells me that Tucker never made any report," the chief said.

"He's the servant of the police commission and the City Council have nothing to do with it," the judge said. "If Tucker doesn't care to carry on the work under the terms of the resolution all he has to do is say so. He's responsible to the commission and no one else."

Alderman L. D. McDonald, who first brought Mr. Tucker's complaints to the civic traffic and police committee, said he thought Mr. Tucker had got the idea there was to be an investigation from Mayor O. G. McCrear.

"Well, he can read English, can't he?" asked Judge Ellis. "The instructions were not only given to him but explained more than once."

Alderman McDonald said the reason the traffic and police committee had taken up the matter was that Mr. Tucker had come to him with complaints there were certain documents in the City Hall he could not get.

Ruling Soon on Birth Control

Ontario Magistrate Reserves Decision to End Charges Against Miss D. Palmer

Canadian Press

Eastview, Ont., Oct. 23.—Magistrate Lester Clayton today reserved decision on a defence motion for dismissal of charges against Miss Dorothy Palmer of disseminating birth control information in this town.

The defence held the crown had failed to establish a prima facie case on the charge as laid and the crown contended it had done so.

A considerable argument developed on the defence motion regarding the wording of the charge under the Criminal Code that Miss Palmer had for "disposal in Eastview" birth control information and articles intended to prevent conception.

The defence held evidence the information and devices were dispatched from Kitchener, Ont., precluded the conclusion Miss Palmer had the articles for disposal. The crown claimed the fact application could be made through her supporters.

The defence held the articles for disposal in this town.

START OF BUREAU
Miss Anna Weber, industrial nurse of the Kaufman Rubber Company of Kitchener and director of the Kitchener Parents' Information Bureau, described the inauguration of poverty in homes of workers who had been laid off work.

The families of the workers, she said, were growing and in some cases she found feeble-mindedness.

She was instructed to seek arrangements for sterilization of some of the feeble-minded wives of workers through family physicians. As a result some women were sterilized.

She said the bureau and not Miss Palmer had decided on the basis of information on application blanks whether the applicant would receive contraceptives.

In ordinary cases consideration of applications was routine, she said, but in unusual cases the applicant was told to consult her own physician.

CHOICE OF AGENTS

Field workers, she said, were chosen after consultation with medical authorities of the locality.

Dissemination of birth control information could not be left in the hands of local physicians because many were not conversant with the subject, she said.

"We feel all mothers should have the right of voluntary motherhood, particularly in cases where there is poverty or illness," said Miss Weber. The Kitchener bureau, she said, had dealt with about 43,000 cases.

declare that in connection with its declaration of October 7, it cannot consider itself tied to the non-intervention agreement or to any oath of the participants.

October 7, Moscow made its charges against the Fascist counter-attack.

"SYSTEMATICALLY VIOLATED"
The text of Ambassador Malsky's communication follows:

"Having accepted the agreement on non-intervention, the government of the Soviet Union expected this agreement would be fulfilled by all participants and that in consequence the length of the civil war in Spain, as well as the number of victims, would be reduced.

"It has been shown, however, that this agreement is being systematically violated by several participants. The insurgents are being supplied with arms with impunity.

BASE OF SUPPLY
"One of the participants in the agreement, Portugal, has been converted into a main base of supply for the rebels, while the legal government of Spain has been boycotted and deprived of the chance to purchase arms outside of Spain for the defence of the population.

"Thus, in consequence of violations, the rebels enjoy a privileged position. As the result of this abnormal situation, the civil war in Spain has been prolonged and the number of its victims increased.

"An attempt by the U.S.S.R. to end the violations was not supported in the (Non-intervention) Committee. The last suggestion the U.S.S.R. made was for control of the Portuguese ports, the chief base of supplies for the rebels, but that was not even included in the agenda of today's session.

"Not desiring to continue in the position of people involuntarily stimulating this unfair situation, the U.S.S.R. sees only one issue: To return to the government of Spain its right, and to purchase arms outside of Spain, which arms and chances are enjoyed by the governments of the world, and that parties to the agreement be granted the right to sell and offer arms to Spain as they choose.

"The Soviet Government does not desire any longer to hold itself responsible for the present position, which is obviously unfair to the legal Spanish government and population, and hereby is compelled to declare that in connection with its declaration of October 7, it cannot consider itself tied to the non-intervention agreement or to any oath of the participants."

Man Held on Ransom Charge

Associated Press

Washington, Oct. 23.—J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation, announced today the arrest by his agents of Edward Pliss, described by Hoover as a former associate of William Dainard, kidnapper of nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser, at Tacoma.

Pliss was captured by federal agents in San Francisco late last night. Hoover said, after a prolonged search.

Hoover said Pliss wanted for questioning in connection with the location of part of the Weyerhaeuser ransom money not yet recovered, admitted to G-men he had accompanied Dainard alias William Mahan, through the west while Dainard was a fugitive.

At 3:45 p.m. the two bombers again circled the city, but made no attempt to attack.

HEAVY BOMBARDMENT

At the same time the fascist air force conducted a heavy bombardment of government lines along the whole western and southern front in the Madrid sector, particularly the region of Mostoles.

Almost destitute of able-bodied men, as a new workers' army of 60,000 stormed across the plains of Castile to meet the enemy, the city prior to the first air raid lay in hushed and tense expectancy.

MOSTOLES BATTLE

Only ten miles distant, at Mostoles, government defenders dug in for a desperate stand against the sweeping advance of the fascists.

(Associated Press correspondents with the insurgents reported fascist modern heavy artillery, capable of throwing shells into the heart of Madrid, had rumbled through Navacerrada, twenty miles southwest, early today.)

HUESCA BATTLE

At Huesca on the Aragon front, government troops stormed the fascist-held town, advancing inside the range of insurgent artillery and assaulting Moors and other insurgent troops in buildings and trenches on the outskirts of the city.

Near Naval del Marques, thirty-five miles west of Madrid, another band of government troops beat off an insurgent assault. Virtually isolated from government lines, they held their ground in the face of a withering fire which sent civilians fleeing the town in panic.

But the main danger lay to the south at Mostoles and at Torrejon de la Calzada, sixteen miles south of the capital.

GUADARRAMA BATTLE

Navacerrada, Spain, Oct. 22 (Delayed).—The last Socialist mountain defenses before El Escorial fell today under a heavy insurgent attack at Las Navas del Marques, in the Guadarrama Mountains.

Fascist commanders declared the mountain town, fifteen miles directly west of Escorial, was occupied this (Thursday) morning after a night of hard fighting between attackers and defenders.

Pacific Liner To Be Scrapped

Shinyo Maru Sold for $300,000 and Will Be Broken Up at Yokohama

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—The famous old Japanese trans-Pacific passenger liner Shinyo Maru, which for many years operated between San Francisco and the Orient, has been sold to a Yokohama scrapping firm for $300,000, according to advices received here yesterday from Kobe. The price is considered something of a record for a ship of her size.

For two decades the Shinyo Maru was the flagship of the T.K.K.'s trans-Pacific fleet, and in 1926 she was taken over by the N.Y.K. line, which continued to operate her across the Pacific for six years. For the last four years she had been tied up at Kobe.

The Shinyo Maru is a vessel of 12,000 gross tons, with a length of 358 feet. She was built by the Mitsubishi Shipbuilding Company at Nagasaki.

BRITAIN GETS BELGIAN REPLY

Associated Press

London, Oct. 23.—Belgium's Locarno reply, reported to be an assurance that country does not intend to desert her existing obligations, was delivered to the Foreign Office by Ambassador Baron de Cartier de Marchienne today.

It was understood the note struck a mild chord in contrast with King Leopold's recent "neutrality" speech, which has received varying interpretations in European capitals.

The reply was the last to be received from Locarno powers to the British memorandum looking toward new European security negotiations. Germany, France and Italy already had answered Foreign Secretary Eden's note of September 18.

None of the notes was published because of Great Britain's desire for secret diplomatic groundwork on a proposed new Locarno pact to replace the one repudiated by Germany when she remilitarized the Rhineland.

BRITISH VIEWPOINT
Mr. Eden's memorandum, however, was known to have been a re-statement in more concrete terms of British views expounded on July 23 after air had met to discuss the Rhineland remilitarization.

At that time the British viewpoint was outlined as follows:

1. Renewed efforts for insuring the general peace of Europe.

2. Deprecation of "opposing blocs" in Europe.

3. A proposal for an early meeting to negotiate a new Locarno.

4. Efforts to have Germany and Italy participate.

5. Suggestions for widening the area of discussion if progress toward a general settlement of all European peace problems could be made.

New Zealand House Gives First Reading to New Shipping Bill

Wellington, N.Z., Oct. 23 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—The first bill in defence of British shipping on the Pacific Ocean was struck today when the House of Representatives gave first reading to the Protection of British Shipping Bill.

Minister of Marine P. Fraser, introducing the bill, said Australia would pass similar legislation, but perhaps not in the same terms. He added the United States Government had been acquainted with the terms of the bill and an undertaking had been given that the measure would not operate until the United States government had an opportunity of making suggestions.

The main provisions of the bill are that it authorizes restrictions and prohibitions against a foreign country at the discretion of the government. Conditions of such restrictions are threefold: If the laws of the country in question prohibit British ships from carrying passengers and goods between ports of that country or between it and its territories; where the country imposes restrictive conditions on the carriage of passengers and goods in British ships; and where the country's ships receive a subsidy or a valuable privilege enabling them to compete at an unequal advantage with British shipping.

An order-in-council will make it illegal for any ship of that country to receive passengers or goods for transport across the Tasman Sea (between New Zealand and Australia) or land them after transport. Exceptions are made in respect to passengers arriving within six months preceding their departure or the landing and embarkation of through passengers.

The bill respects existing agreements of the New Zealand Government and provides penalties for infringements.

Canberra, Australia, Oct. 22 (Canadian Press Cable via Reuters).—The Minister of Commerce, Rt. Hon. Earle Page, announced today the Commonwealth cabinet had approved the main principles of a bill to restrict United States ships from engaging in the social passenger trade between New Zealand and Australia.

The bill also would deal with the general question of competition with British shipping in the Pacific by other foreign countries.

Page added the legislation had not yet been drafted. It would not be proclaimed until certain negotiations which were now in progress had been completed.

Robert Parkhill, Minister for Defence, stated in the House of Representatives the Commonwealth Bill was complementary to similar New Zealand legislation introduced today.

Will Rule Alone, With No Close Lieutenants, if He Becomes Dictator of Spain, Events Indicate

Associated Press
Burgos, Spain (By Mail to Paris and New York, Oct. 23).—Even in its embryonic form, the government of Gen. Francisco Franco, dictator-designate of a "nationalist" Spain, is showing its Fascist outlines.

The political ideas of Fascist Italy and Nazi Germany clearly play a strong part in Gen. Franco's conception of the Spain of tomorrow.

For one thing, Franco obviously intends to rule alone, with an iron hand in the manner of Mussolini. For him, there will be no Goering, Goebbels or Von Blomberg, as in the case of Germany's Reichsfuehrer Hitler.

"THE WHOLE SHOW"
Franco intends to be the whole show—the Chief (Jefe), rather than the leader of his people. His so-called cabinet of minor subordinates plainly indicates for the present, at least, Franco has no intention of sharing his power.

One of the cabinet members himself asked by an Italian photographer to assemble the ministers for a group picture, declined with a self-effacing gesture.

"In Italy," he said, "you have only Mussolini. In Spain we have only Franco."

VATICAN PROTEST TO THE REICH

Canadian Press from Havas
Vatican City, Oct. 23.—The Observator Romano yesterday evening protested against what it termed a deliberate German campaign to mutilate and misinterpret the words of Pope Pius XI and his bishops in the Reich.

Such tactics, the Vatican organ said, were common to Communism and National Socialism and "reveal their lack of confidence in public opinion and their fear of the influence which dissemination of the truth might have on the public."

The Nazi press had "smothered" the text of a paper on Communism by Mr. Louis Hudal, rector of the German College in Rome, and given it an entirely false and arbitrary interpretation, the journal charged.

"The Pope's discourse to the Spanish refugees suffered no different fate," it said.

AL SMITH SPEAKS ON LONDON SIDE

Associated Press
Chicago, Oct. 23.—Alfred E. Smith, Democratic candidate for the U.S. presidency in 1928, in a speech here yesterday evening continued his attack on the New Deal, urging the voters on November 3 to cast their votes "in a manner that will give a sane, orderly government under Governor Landon of Kansas."

Mr. Smith's statement was his second open declaration for the Republican presidential candidate. He previously had announced in New York he would support Landon.

His attack on the Roosevelt administration yesterday evening was directed chiefly at the President's fiscal policies.

Fight at London Fascist Meeting

Canadian Press from Havas
London, Oct. 23.—Fascists and anti-Fascists clashed at Hampstead yesterday evening when a meeting organized in the Town Hall by the British Union of Fascists was interrupted and the speaker, William Joyce, manhandled and punched.

The interruptions came just as Joyce launched into a diatribe against Jews—in the disorder that followed, twelve demonstrators were expelled from the hall and their names given to police.

Outside the hall, police kept a hostile crowd at bay and prevented further interruptions at the meeting.

Judge Held for Trial in Russia

Saratov, Russia, Oct. 23.—Judge A. Demidoff was arrested yesterday evening and charged with burning down the courthouse to destroy damaging records. The janitress, burned to death in the fire, the investigators charged, "knew too much" about the judge and his doings. It was alleged the judge had handed out light sentences to those who could and did pay for such consideration.

Indians Riot on Ontario Reserve

Two R.C.M.P. Officers and Two Civilians Mauled Before Order Restored

Canadian Press
Muncie, Ont., Oct. 23.—A detachment of twelve Royal Canadian Mounted Police and provincial police officers, rushed from St. Thomas and London, yesterday evening succeeded in quelling a disturbance staged by 200 Indians, after they had attacked and injured two R.C.M.P. constables and two civilians.

The village of Muncie is situated on the Muncie Indian Reserve, twenty-three miles west of London. The disorders occurred when R.C.M.P. Officer H. F. Paquet, stationed on the reserve, attempted to arrest a drunken Indian during the progress of the Oneida Fair. About the same time, Constable Paquet's fellow-officer, Constable J. M. Bella, endeavored to make another arrest. It was then, said police, the 200 tribesmen, many of whom appeared to be intoxicated, turned on the officers.

The two civilians, Francis Pickering and Richard Collins, went to the aid of the constables, and were mauled. Later the four white men were able to fight their way to police headquarters and call for assistance.

Constable Paquet was bruised and battered; Constable Bella suffered a fracture of one rib. Collins's nose was broken and Pickering suffered superficial lacerations.

The two Indians, Simon Chrisjohn and Simon Ireland, whose arrest precipitated the disturbance, were placed in custody after arrival of the rescue force.

Several tribes occupy the reserve, which stretches from Middlesex County down into Elgin. Centre of the disturbance was the Oneida encampment, where a fair had been in progress since Wednesday.

Pup Is Saved By Older Dog

Elora, Ont., Oct. 23.—The hero today in this town, twelve miles north-east of Guelph, is Peter, a big collie dog owned by George Farquhar, who saved the life of Skipper, his canine pal for many months.

Skipper had become stuck in a drain, and the collie's frantic efforts to free him were noticed by a passer-by, who released the young pup from his prison.

Damages Are Given Against Constable

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 23.—Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in the B.C. Supreme Court yesterday awarded William Freymak, twenty-seven-year-old truck driver, $1,162 damages against Police Constable Charles Campbell.

Freymak was shot by the officer on March 21 last as he and a companion were driving in his brother's truck. Constable Campbell testified the truck had been reported stolen by Freymak's brother and that he had shot at the gasoline tank of the machine.

The court decided Constable Campbell had not been justified in shooting. City Hall officials said the damages would be paid by the city.

SWASTIKA SEEN ON PLANES IN SPAIN

Associated Press

Northwich, Cheshire, Eng., Oct. 23.—An English college student, who has been a bombing pilot for the Spanish government during the civil war, told the Press Association yesterday evening German officers flying for the Spanish Fascists "do not even take the trouble to hide their swastika badges."

The student, John Wilson, who was visiting his fiancée here for a few days before returning to the Spanish war front, left the University of Liverpool to go to Spain, where he said he had been flying for eleven weeks. Nearly all the Spanish Fascist planes, he asserted, are of German or Italian make, but he told of bringing down one insurgent machine which he said was of recent British manufacture.

SCUFFLE FOLLOWS POLITICAL SPEECH

New Orleans, Oct. 23.—Gerald L. K. Smith was attacked by three unidentified men in a radio studio here yesterday evening just after he had delivered an address assailing Governor Richard Leche for "betraying" the late United States Senator Huey Long.

Smith had completed his talk and was seated in the glass-enclosed studio when the three men walked in. Without any preliminaries, one of them swung on Smith, striking him on the chest.

Smith's companions jumped to his defense and a brief free-for-all ensued. The intruders, going they were getting the worst of it, made for the door and escaped.

No serious injuries were reported after the scuffle.

Smith in his speech criticized Governor Leche particularly for the executive's support of a "luxury" sales tax and endorsement of President Roosevelt for re-election.

Paris, Oct. 23.—A government decision to increase France's mobile guards, sworn enemies of would-be street fighters of both right and left factions, was announced yesterday evening.

Bus Bill for Royal City

New Westminster, Oct. 23.—The British Columbia Government has decided to introduce legislation to validate an agreement between the New Westminster City Council and the British Columbia Electric Railway Company, for operation of busses here, Mayor Fred J. Hume announced yesterday.

Such legislation will give the city council the power to give the company a twelve-year franchise for operation of the busses, he said.

Case in Ontario Draws Attention

Judge Accepts Murder Guilty Plea and Imposes Death Sentence

Toronto, Oct. 23.—A Supreme Court judge is within his rights in accepting a plea of guilty in a murder case and imposing the death sentence without hearing evidence, Toronto lawyers said when questioned regarding the action of Mr. Justice Nicol Jeffrey in accepting such a plea from Gordon Bliss at Port Arthur yesterday. Bliss was sentenced to be hanged January 5.

C. R. Magone of the Ontario Attorney-General's department, pointed out a precedent had been established for such action in an English case last year. None could recall a previous case in Canada.

"It is quite unusual," said Mr. Magone, "to do not know of another case like it in Ontario. Mr. Justice Jeffrey acted quite properly and within his rights. It was done in England in the case of Rex vs. James Robert Kent, tried in London in 1935. He pleaded guilty. On review the court was upheld in accepting the plea."

"If the prisoner insists on the judge taking a plea of guilty, he must take it. If the prisoner does not insist, the judge must explain to him the consequences he would face and then ask him what he wants him to do."

Mr. Justice Jeffrey warned Bliss there could be but one result of a plea of guilty—the death sentence.

Gordon Bliss, twenty-seven, Fort William, former newspaper reporter and highway camp clerk, was arrested in March last at the home of his parents after police had gone there in response to a telephone call from him to find the body of Mildred Johnston, twenty-four, telephone operator.

"Phooey to Latin" Says Leacock

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 23.—Dr. Stephen B. Leacock, formerly of McGill University, Montreal, says "phooey" on compulsory Latin courses in schools.

"Why even a horse doctor has to learn Latin," he scoffed. "Does a horse know Latin? No, but somehow it is accepted that a man who knows Latin is more fit to cure a horse than a man who does not know Latin."

Still Going Up

LATEST COMPLETE AVAILABLE details of Canada's external trade—the twelve months ending August 31—reveal the fact that our sales to the outside world amounted in value to $935,600,000 and our purchases in world markets to $589,800,000. In other words, the total business was worth in that period $1,525,400,000, or an increase of $211,500,000 over the corresponding twelve months a year ago.

Advices from Ottawa the other day, incidentally, indicated an increase of 25.2 per cent in value of Canada's exports for the first half of the current fiscal year. (The fiscal year begins on April 1). Exports to British Empire countries increased 33.2 per cent, while those to foreign countries expanded by more than 19 per cent. The total worth of the nation's exports for the six months ended September 30 was $485,777,313, an increase of $98,239,533 over the first half of last year. Exports to British Empire countries at $228,634,434 were $56,982,917 greater than those to foreign countries, worth $257,142,879. The greatest percentage increase, 143, was recorded in exports to Belgium, $11,037,593; compared with $5,543,255. Japan took $10,452,638 worth of Canadian goods, an increase of 72.9 per cent.

The export figures, referred to above, for the first six months of the current fiscal year carry with them the promise of a total trade, when the Minister of Finance brings down his budget next spring, for the full twelve months of between $1,600,000,000 and $1,700,000,000. This would seem to mean that at the end of the 1936-1937 fiscal year the Dominion's external trade may be considerably less than $1,000,000,000 behind that of the peak year of 1929, when it stood at $2,654,500,000.

The gain in the Dominion's business with the outside world in the last twelve months is especially significant for the fact that at the end of the fiscal year March 31, 1933, two and a half years of government under Mr. Bennett, the national turnover was worth $887,000,000, or approximately worth $50,000,000 more than it was in 1912, when our population did not exceed 7,500,000, compared with nearly 11,000,000 in 1933.

Happily for Canada, the government now in office at Ottawa is economically alert; it knows, as Liberal governments in this country always have recognized, of course, that the only way to be prosperous is to sell as much as possible and buy sufficiently to make such sales feasible.

Economic Life Prevails

THE IMMENSE DIFFICULTIES OF evolving a practical plan for freeing international trade from its present bondage must be frankly recognized, but it is hardly too much to say that the ultimate preservation of peace in Europe depends upon the "degree" of success achieved in overcoming them.

"The recovery of international trade is indeed a primary British interest, since it still affords the only basis upon which we, in common with others, can build a lasting prosperity. The great recovery which, under governmental stimulus has taken place in our domestic trade during the last three years has equipped us to assume the responsibilities of economic leadership.

"Financially and economically we are unquestionably the strongest power in Europe today. If, as is generally agreed, the present temper of Europe requires that negotiations emanate from strength no country is better qualified than Great Britain to initiate proposals for the gradual removal of the monetary and tariff barriers which are at present reducing the flow of international trade to an uneasy trickle."

The above is an extract from The Times of London and it appeared in that famous daily three days before France decided to devalue her currency, and it gives the practical reasons for the goodwill expressed by Great Britain and the United States toward France in her time of financial anxiety. It is possible that Great Britain's trade for a time may be made more difficult, but even if this proves to be the case, the temporary disadvantage will be outweighed by the advantage to international prosperity. This backing of France during her fight for stability by the other two great Democratic powers is timely and can not fail to be effective—at least this is the view of the great London daily.

It will be remembered that long before the debacle of 1929 some of the most conservative of a galaxy of economists warned the world that as it gradually drifted its way to economic nationalism, just as certain would this contraction of trade be the sequel. Sir George Paish and Sir Josiah Stamp, for the British nations, and such men as Mr. Cordell Hull and Mr. Roger Babson for the United States, "used up a good deal of space to drive home this truism.

All of this was of no avail. The stupid theory took root that each could do all the selling and very little of the buying. The world turned its back upon the inexorable economic law. It did not pay. The world, at long last, has found it out.

Fish For Business

NOT ONLY SPORTSMEN, BUT likewise all citizens who appreciate the importance of the tourist business to the economic future of Victoria, will be gratified at the news that the provincial and federal governments are collaborating in the appointment of a committee of three experts to study problems affecting sport fishing in British Columbia.

The nearby states of Oregon and Washington recently learned the lesson that it does not pay to neglect game fish. They are now pushing through an intensive and ambitious campaign to restock lakes and streams which, a little while ago, were sadly depleted.

There is little doubt that the overlapping of authority vested in various federal and provincial bodies has not been in the best interests of sport fishing. British Columbia waters are, of course, by no means depleted. But any move which will serve to forestall such an unfortunate contingency is a move in the right direction. Centralization of control over all measures to propagate sport fish would unquestionably be judicious.

Each year the tourist business grows in importance to Victoria and the island. The lure of sport fishing must be ranked high among the attractions that draw the tourist to our shores. The recent announcement that a Seattle millionaire has bought property at Cowichan Bay to serve as a base for hunting and fishing operations aptly illustrates the point.

As Others See Us

DR. E. LESLIE BURGIN, M.P., Parliamentary Secretary to the British Board of Trade, recently paid a visit to Canada to recuperate from a serious operation. This was his fourth trip to the Dominion during the last seven years. Most of the time was spent in the Province of Quebec, for which the minister confessed a special liking, and where his command of the French language is always appreciated.

"This part of Canada which was France," said Dr. Burgin, in an exclusive interview with Canada's Weekly, published in London, "has its own special charm, and provides a change and delight to the understanding visitor. Undoubtedly, there is a great improvement in conditions manifest throughout Eastern Canada, and there is obviously more money in the hands of the people. The agricultural areas show a wider area under crops, and there is talk of the reopening of pulp mills which have been shut down for a number of years.

"It was evident that there is greater tourist traffic, steamers making the westbound crossing arriving filled to capacity. The resulting greater volume of work at the docks has also provided a welcome medium for absorbing a large number of the local unemployed. The hotels, which share in this increased traffic, in their turn, give increased employment; the traders from whom supplies are purchased receive their share of the benefit, and the chain can be followed right back to the producers of primary commodities. There is also a considerable amount of new building in progress, and if the number of high-priced motor cars that one sees on the streets can be accepted as a reliable guide, this portion of the Dominion must be enjoying a considerable measure of prosperity."

It is evident that Dr. Burgin used both his eyes, his ears, and a penetrating mind during his recent holiday in Eastern Canada. He will probably tell some of his colleagues in the House of Commons, especially those who have not been to Canada, what they are missing by not getting to know this country, our people, and our potentialities better.

Big Tent Boom

AMONG CIRCUS PEOPLE IT IS ALMOST traditional that a presidential election year in the neighboring republic means a poor season for the big tent. But this year, apparently, it is a different story.

Mr. Sam W. Gumpertz, general manager of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus, frankly is puzzled. "It has been a good circus year," he maintains, "and we've had to turn away crowds in dozens of places." With politics constantly invading the home via radio this year, the explanation might be that people feel more in need of relaxation. Then, according to Mr. Gumpertz, clowns are kept strictly non-partisan in a presidential election year, and the use of circus elephants and donkeys in political gags is taboo. He says "we just can't have politics in the big tent!"

What could be better calculated to lure the people during hectic campaign months than a non-political oasis, where donkeys and elephants may be seen capering about without "New Deal" or "Grand Old Party" labels?

Notes

Our Indian summer obviously thinks it has been insulted by the suggestion that winter is almost upon us. Again, we salute the sun with all its late October warmth.

Next Tuesday the British Columbia Legislature will open up for what is expected to be a short business session. It may be short, but it ought to be a trifle interesting at the commencement because of the little spot of bother about the opposition.

Both the death rate for babies under one year and the death rate for tuberculosis last year were the lowest ever recorded in Great Britain. These facts are set forth in the annual report of the Ministry of Health issued in London today. Recently, speaking to a service club in Montreal, a New York dental surgeon told his audience that "England is physically decadent." Stricter attention to his drills and forceps and less to other people's business 3,000 miles away ought to be his watchword.

LOOSE ENDS

A stranger asks a simple question and gets no answer—the House is asked to do something—Culture and distinction are about to descend on us—And fifteen years of labor are richly rewarded.

BY BRUCE HUTCHISON

WHY?

A MAN I used to know in the east years ago and who has now risen to an important position in the world, called on me today and we talked about the current scene, changed in the lapse of ten years since we had met before. He told me about conditions in the east and on the prairies and then we came to British Columbia. Said he:

"Answer me a simple question. We on the prairies shiver in the freezing winter. We bake in the summer. Our crops are killed by drought or hail. We have only one resource, grain. But here you in British Columbia have perfect climate. You suffer no real cold, no heat. Your crops always grow. You have every kind of resource, everything that people need to live on. My question is this—Why, oh, why is it that you people out here aren't the happiest, most prosperous in the world? Why aren't you setting an example for the whole of Canada, for the whole world for that matter, in happiness and contentment and the good life?"

Alas, I couldn't answer this simple question. But I thought maybe you could.

RESPECTFUL SUGGESTION

THE LEGISLATURE, it is reported, will have little to do in the session opening next week. As it is not rushed, here is something with which it could occupy its mind—it could pass a law forbidding not only the erection of gaudy advertising signs on the highways, but on any place where they will mar the scenery. There is no use keeping hideous billboards off the highway itself if they stand a few feet back from the road in private property and leer obscenely at the traveler.

In the United States that is the customary arrangement—no signs on the road, but every fence plastered with pictures of tooth paste, shaving soap and girls in undies.

It is argued that on private property a man should be allowed to erect what he pleases, but this principle has long ago been abolished in our statute law. We regulate what a man may erect in town planning. We do not allow him to maintain a nuisance or anything which will menace public health. Nothing can menace the public's mental health more than the rash of billboards nestling against our green hillsides, ruining our highways and thumbing their noses at the government because they happen to be on private property.

The state might set aside restricted areas where billboards would be allowed, as other cities are restricted in older civilizations, but out in the country where they peek-mark the scenery they should be sternly suppressed and they will be some day when as a civilization we get out of our baby carriages.

CULTURE AND DISTINCTION

THERE WILL BE a large and distinguished gathering, they tell me, at the opening of the Legislature. Every available ticket has been sent out, every available chair crammed into the legislative chamber, and the members themselves will be huddled, as usual, like canned pilchards. All the rules of precedence have been carried out with punctilious care so that every rank in our democratic and classless society may be recognized.

On Tuesday afternoon all those people who were there a year ago and swore they would never bother to come again will come as usual to lend to the Legislature a momentary air of culture and distinction—alas, so fleeting. It is very kind of them to come on our opening day and give us some culture and distinction and a flash of the latest ladies' fashions and the smell of expensive perfumes. It shows you that their culture, wealth and distinction have not turned their heads. They still support our good old democratic system, our classless society and our absolute equality. They are not above us. They are with us and that, at a critical time like this, is very comforting. Is it not?

But it would be more comforting still if a few of them, if even one or two of them, would come again after the opening day when there is really business to be done in the House, when there are no soldiers in uniform, no booming guns, no Paris fashions and expensive perfumes, only the dry, musty smell of practical politics, only the good earthy human odor of democracy.

That, I suppose, is asking too much. We have no right to expect all this culture and distinction to spare us more than one afternoon to visit us when we are in our working clothes and making the laws of the country. That, naturally, is beneath them. We must make the laws of the country without them. We must stagger along blindly without culture and distinction because they come only on the opening day when the band is playing.

MONUMENT

FIFTEEN YEARS I have labored over him, trimmed him, sprayed him, fed him on the fat of the land (from George Pudge's barnyard). Fifteen years I have watched him grow with a slow, steady gait, making fibre of an unequalled quality. Fifteen years I have waited patiently for the great day to come—patiently while others told me it was useless, that I would wait in vain, that I should wait and this year I have been rewarded. My Northern Spy is bearing fruit; not a huge crop, to be sure, but enough. It has started. It has reached maturity, from now on it will begin to repay my long vigil, my ceaseless care.

There, you say, that fellow is talking about apples again. Why can't he talk about the situation in Europe or the C.C.E.? Why does he have to drivel on and on about apples? Ah, my friend, this is no ordinary apple, not the common Transparents and Gravensteins which inspire men to hasty and ill-considered poetry in August and September. This is a finished canvas beside a mere sketch. This is a masterpiece which took fifteen years to get under way, which takes until mid-November to complete. And until you have eaten a real Northern Spy, as a spy from Ontario will tell you, you have never tasted fruit, you have never felt nectar surging down your gullet, you have never felt real flesh between your teeth.

A man who has brought a Northern Spy to maturity can look the world in the face and know that he is no parasite on society. Sir, you have been a school trustee, you say, and served the public well. But have you grown a Northern Spy for fifteen years before it fruited? I thought not. You have been an alderman and run for the Legislature, but what have you left behind as a monument? A few laws, acts, statutes, which no one remembers. But you have left no Northern Spy which will grow and bear these hundred years. You have written a book, sir, but it will be forgotten, while my Northern Spy will rouse palates, stimulate stomachs, delight the eyes of generations yet unborn. Nay, though you should become as great as McGeer or Telford or Aberhart, you are, beside me, a total failure.

Letters to The Editor

MISSOURIAN'S RETORT

To the Editor:—While his letter indicates that he possesses more credulity than "comprehension," it hardly seems possible that "Christian" can be so entirely lacking in the latter quality as not to be perfectly well aware of the fact that my questions have never once been "satisfactorily" answered by the Young Citizens Forum (Messrs. Butler, Hartnell and Thomas), but have from first to last been deliberately evaded by them.

"Christian," in striving to "make the worse appear the better cause," is not living up to the implication of his non-de-plum.

The latest stratagem of the Young Citizens appears to be to get their old schoolfellows ("play up school but don't play the game" appears to be their motto) to make a great fuss about the sarcasm I have indulged in at their expense, ignoring the fact that they themselves have in the past made attempts—very weak ones, admittedly—to be sarcastic, and have even at times tended to be abusive.

An example of what the Young Citizens consider to be sarcasm is to be found in Mr. Butler's letter of August 1, in the first sentence of which, "leading with his chin," he left himself open to a very obvious retort. An example of rather crude abuse is the same individual's reference to "sebastianians and shysters" in his letter of February 29.

So far from objecting to my "parade," the Young Citizens should be grateful to me for it, for it has provided them with another "link-hole" to crawl into, on one excuse for not giving an explicit reply to my questions.

At the same time the yelps of vicarious anguish from their friends proves that, as suggested in my letter of August 22 (last paragraph), ridicule is the most effective weapon to employ against their preposterous propaganda.

If they don't like persiflage let them answer my letters of August 22 and September 18, neither of which contain any to speak of. That of the latter date closes as follows: "Unless these young citizens are prepared to deny the truth of the statements made in this letter, without further evasions or equivocations, let them remain silent."

They have "remained silent" thereby tacitly admitting the truth of my statements. Their guerrilla allies had better do likewise.

INTRINSIC VALUE

To the Editor:—According to a statement made by the Department of Finance at Ottawa recently there is in circulation in Canada silver coins amounting to an intrinsic value to $27,242,166, nickel $2,434,075, and copper $2,830,198—a total of $32,506,439.

Is there any necessity for this value being in the coins? Few people know how much silver there is in a four-bit piece and still in payment of a debt. It is the government stamp on the money that makes it pass from hand to hand without question.

While the government which is responsible for the issuance of coins honors them by accepting them as payment of all government dues, everyone else will gladly accept them.

Cardboard, wood or aluminum discs would circulate quite as readily as silver, nickel or copper, and the result would be a great saving to the taxpayer.

By selling in and selling this metal and issuing aluminum discs instead, the government could retire bonds the interest of which amounts to something like $1,500,000 per annum.

But, if we must and will have the principle of intrinsic value in spite of expense, why not be thorough about it and make our silver coins 100 per cent sterling? If by some accident your coins are melted down you are lucky if you recover about 40 per cent of their value and still have the constitution now. What kind of protection is that? Silver, of course, needs a little alloy to firm it up, but not such an excess of babbitt as three-fifths.

A lot of theorizing about money is being done these days but few seem to be aware of this costly absurdity staring them in the face every day.

Of course it is, comparatively speaking, only a matter of small change, yet if people would set themselves to look at and apply the remedy, they would thereby acquire a clearer insight into the larger money problem.

A GENTLEMAN PASSES

From The Fullerton, Cal. News-Tribune

A gentleman has just passed on. He was kind and courteous, respectful to his superiors and indulgent to his inferiors.

He had courage without bluster and pride without vaunting. He was a loyal friend and a devoted companion.

He never picked a quarrel nor fled from a fight. He loved little children and delighted in their enjoyment.

He was generous and never critical. He was full of the joy of living. His name was "Hurley," and he was a sheep-dog-eaten-year-old.

He lived happily, died serenely and left a volume of satisfying memories.

"NO MORE TEARS at mealtime!"

WRITES MARY'S MOTHER

"She cried for grown-up foods. I was frantic. Then I asked our doctor what to do. He solved everything by telling me about CRISCO'S digestibility."

SHE ISN'T WILFUL, DOCTOR. SHE JUST SEEMS TO CRAVE SOLID FOODS LIKE PIES AND FRIED THINGS.

LET HER EAT THEM, BUT BE SURE TO COOK THEM WITH CRISCO, THE DIGESTIBLE VEGETABLE SHORTENING.

Can you think of a more thrilling proof of Crisco's digestibility than this?—actually, children can eat grown-up foods when they're made with Crisco—the digestible vegetable shortening. Think what this means to you! No fear of pie—when it's flaky-light as digestible Crisco makes it! No need to shun fried foods—when they're browned crisp and golden in the digestible Crisco way!

Besides, Crisco is plumb full of "helpfulness." The usual chore of cake-mixing becomes child's play with Crisco, the vegetable shortening that is so creamy! No need for chilling Crisco, to get Crisco's double-light tender pastry. No smoke need annoy you when you are frying food with delicious digestible Crisco. Change to Crisco—enjoy food that tastes grand and is grand for you!

PINEAPPLE FRITTER RINGS

—a new treat that your children will love. And children can safely eat these crisp, golden-brown fritter rings because they're digestible! Today start using digestible Crisco for your pies and cakes, too!

1 cup flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
11 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon melted Crisco
1/2 cup milk
6-8 slices pineapple

Sift dry ingredients. Stir in egg and melted Crisco beaten with milk. Dip pineapple slices into batter. Fill an ordinary deep, flat-bottomed saucepan two-thirds full of melted Crisco (the light creamy fat that is famous for its digestibility). Heat Crisco to 365°-375° F. or until hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread in 60 seconds. Fry pineapple rings until crisp and brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Serve with strips of broiled bacon. Strain Crisco and save it—this remarkable fat can be used over and over again for frying—foods will absorb no "off" flavors.

Toronto, Oct. 23 (Canadian Press).—Charges of defrauding the government by omitting to pay excise and customs taxes, involving Samuel Chernoff, Moe Wexler, Max Wortman and Jack Cinnamon, were dismissed here yesterday by Judge James Parker. The four were alleged to have smuggled alcohol into Canada.

HIGH SPEED MAY BE SAFE

Is Argument to Court in Auto Appeal Case

Under conditions such as those existing when he was charged with driving to the common danger on July 26, it would have been safe to drive at a rate of seventy or eighty miles an hour, C. J. McDowell said as his appeal from conviction by Magistrate Jay in City Police Court was heard in County Court yesterday.

Judgment on the appeal was reserved by Judge Harper after argument was completed and the judge had visited the section of Douglas Street, over which Mr. McDowell drove.

Constable Joseph Addison testified he had been on traffic duty at the corner of Gorge Road and Government Street on the morning of July 26, a Sunday. He had seen the automobile driven by Mr. McDowell slip through a stop sign and had started on his motor bike to warn him against the practice. Mr. McDowell's car had continued along Douglas Street before the constable had caught him. The constable placed the car and said it was going between fifty-five and sixty miles an hour between Burnside Road and Alpha Street.

CONDITIONS GOOD

In reply to M. B. Jackson, K.C., appearing for the appellant, Constable Addison said Mr. McDowell appeared to have the car under control. The street was wide and there was no traffic.

Robert J. Jameson identified the car which Mr. McDowell was driving, and said it was equipped with the most modern type of brakes.

He expressed the opinion Mr. McDowell's car, driven at a rate of sixty miles an hour, could have been brought to a stop within seventy-five or eighty feet. The road had no intersections on the right hand side.

Mr. McDowell testified the street was clear of traffic, visibility was excellent and street cars were not running. He had been stopped after he had passed the boundary line and was three-quarters of a mile in Saanich, he said. He claimed the car was going only forty-five miles an hour, but would have been driving safely at the highest speed the car could go.

NOT NERVOUS

Mrs. McDowell said she had not been nervous over the speed at which the car was going.

George P. W. Motion, service man at Jameson's, said the car was in perfect repair.

Mr. Jackson contended Mr. McDowell had not been driving in a manner to endanger the lives of himself or his passengers or anyone on the street, and therefore could not have been driving to the common danger.

C. L. Harrison, for the crown, remarked the words "common danger" were a simplified form of the law which made the offence that of failing to drive in a careful and prudent manner. The old common danger law no longer applied, he said. Another section of the law set twenty miles an hour in the city and thirty in the outlying districts a safe speed.

Tea was served by Mrs. Raynor, assisted by Mrs. C. Alexander.

LENGTHY MINE CASE IS ENDED

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Oct. 23.—According to word received here yesterday from London by C. W. Craig, K.C., counsel for the respondents, final was written by the Privy Council to fifteen years of litigation over a silver, lead and zinc mine, once reputed worth $1,000,000, located near Kaslo, B.C. The message said an application of Mrs. M. May of Vancouver, for leave to appeal to the Privy Council in forma appella had been refused. Mrs. May, the wife of D. K. May of Thompson Falls, Montana, has waged a fight through courts of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia for more than fifteen years on behalf of the shareholders of the Gibson Mining Co. She claimed a three-quarter interest in the mine. Her claim was contested by the trustees of the Daybreak Mining Co. Ltd., successor in title to the Gibson Company, to the mine, and by Joseph C. Roberts, retired broker of Portland, Oregon.

The Dionne Quintuplets thrived on Libby's Homogenized foods during their critical baby days. It is Libby's special method of Homogenization which makes vegetables, fruit, cereals and soup far finer, far smoother than strained foods.

1. Fewer Digestive Upsets
Doctors find Libby's Homogenized Foods far easier for babies to digest than the finest strained foods. Enthusiastic mothers write that since feeding Libby's Homogenized foods their babies have fewer digestive upsets.

2. Far More Nourishing
Scientific tests show that Libby's special process of Homogenization makes vegetables, fruit, cereal and soup so fine and smooth, they digest far more completely than the most carefully strained foods. Baby uses far less energy in digesting them... and gets far more nourishment.

3. Earlier Feeding Possible
Many doctors recommend Libby's Homogenized Vegetables as early as 3 months... weeks earlier than strained foods... to give baby the minerals he needs to help protect against nutritional anemia. (Homogenized vegetables are so fine they may be mixed with baby's milk formula and fed from the bottle!)

Weddings

CROSS-GASKELL

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Seymour, 742 Wilson Street, the marriage was quietly solemnized on Saturday evening, October 17, of Emma, Frederica, Grace, youngest daughter of Mrs. E. Gaskell of Victoria, and the late Richard Gaskell of Nelson, B.C., to Mr. Charles William (Stan) Cross, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Cross, 544 Toronto Street. Rev. W. R. Brown performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock.

Given in marriage by her mother, who wore a navy silk ensemble and corsage of pink carnations, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin, form-fitting and slightly flared, with a full train and a high collar. The bride's hair was styled in a knot of orange blossoms, the full sleeves fitted tightly from elbow to wrist. She wore a filmy veil of net and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

The bride was attended by her niece, Miss Barbara Creighton of Vancouver, wearing a pretty frock of yellow net and carrying an arm bouquet of mauve and yellow mixed flowers. Mr. George Cross supported his bride.

A small reception for intimate friends and relatives of the young couple was held after the ceremony. The house was decorated with autumn flowers in shades of bronze, and the three-tiered wedding cake centered the supper table, which was adorned with pink and white carnations.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Cross, who were the recipients of many lovely gifts, left for a honeymoon in Seattle, the bride traveling in a smart green frock, with brown tailored coat and hat and matching accessories. They will make their home in Victoria.

BOYD—PRESTON

New Westminster, Oct. 23.—A quiet wedding took place on Tuesday at First United Church, Vancouver, when Rev. H. E. Horton united in marriage Dorothy Margaret, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Preston of New Westminster, and Mr. James Robert Boyd, eldest son of Mr. J. B. Boyd of Esquimalt. After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Boyd will reside in Vancouver.

NAPPER—MACPHERSON

Captain and Mrs. J. D. Macpherson announce the marriage of their only daughter, Eileen Mary Ena, to Jack Ronald Paul, youngest son of Mrs. H. G. Napper. The ceremony took place quietly last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Napper will reside in Victoria.

Crowd Thrills To Pianist's Great Art

Mme. Huntly Green
Acclaimed For Fine Performance

By G. J. D.

Gertrude Huntly Green, Victoria's favorite pianist—at one time prominently identified with the city's musical affairs—is always assured of a cordial welcome when she plays on a Victoria platform. And it was seen from the very beginning, in her recital given at the Empire Theatre yesterday evening, under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Arts Society, that she would not get lightly off, for after the opening number there was tremendous applause, superseding even that given when she first made her appearance on the platform.

With her we seem to tap the stream at its source, there is that fresh air of conviction which is born of the moment and at once conveyed to her hearers as if we have never thought of them in that way before, and if not venturing too far, this is as it appears to the writer, in her greatest secret, combining with her wealth of musical insight, charm of style and absolute competence to interpret the great truths and prime forces.

STYLISH PROGRAMME

The carefully-arranged programme, in order, consisting of Gluck, Mendelssohn, Beethoven, Chopin, Grieg, Albeniz and Stanford, diversifying in period, style and tradition found a happy opening in the heavenly loveliness of the "Melodie" from Gluck's "Orpheus and Eurydice," simply harmonized by the Italian composer, Spangoli, movingly beautiful as re-told and sentimentally expressed by the player.

Mendelssohn's suave and rhythmic Prelude and Fugue in D major followed, a very happy bit of writing which had that grace, delicacy and vivacity, the very qualities in which Mme. Huntly Green excels. This, as did the opening, pleased greatly, warm applause breaking forth from all parts of the house, the artist being twice recalled.

The Beethoven Sonata, opus 26, that followed—one of the composer's early sonatas that presages the "Moonlight" and contains the master's remarkable Funeral March—was polished, fluent and complete, in scintillating virtuoso polish.

A "CHOPIN PLAYER"

In her Chopin group her dreamy and beautiful tone and contemplative mind once more makes one feel that nature has endowed her to be a Chopin player. The Ballade in F Minor, the last of Chopin's four Ballades, had subtlety, lyricism and witchery; the Impromptu, C sharp minor, with its nimble, flowing triplets and bubbling quality, and the Scherzo in C sharp minor, with unfailing technique, sweep and elegance, were marvelously under her magic fingers, and again compelling plaudits.

Another Chopin number, in another sparkling Valse in B flat, the concluding group comprised "The Maiden and the Nightingale" (Granados), ideal programme music and unmistakable in its delineation; the stupendous Spanish "Navarra," by Albeniz, and the English "Reel" one of Stanford's "Four Irish Dances," arranged by Grainger, received with a spontaneous outburst of applause. The audience was loath to leave, demanding still more, and the recital, after smilingly receiving some floral gifts, giving in return some suggested and whimsical pieces, which included a perfect little stimulating descriptive of a boy's home-made life and whistle band, styled "Rush Hour, Hongkong," and by request, an early local favorite, "Bous Bois," humorously saying that "she didn't know it at all."

Golden Wedding Couple at Mass

Associated Press

New York, Oct. 23.—Mr. and Mrs. William Gallagher, who started their married life fifty years ago with "a good lie" advised newlyweds today to be "on the level" with each other. The couple—he is sixty-seven, she is sixty-six—celebrated their golden anniversary yesterday with a re-enactment of the wedding ceremony and a special solemn high mass in their honor at the Church of St. Raphael.

The second wedding somehow, they thought, cancelled the lie that Gallagher, retired policeman, told the priest when they were wed. He told the priest he was twenty-one "for if I had said I was only seventeen, he would not have married us."

There was only one difference between the wedding and the re-enactment: The second time, the Gallagher did not go to the city by restaurant for a ham sandwich. They went to a reception instead.

Junior W.M.S.—The junior auxiliaries to the W.M.S. from St. Andrew's and Gorge Presbyterian churches were the guests of St. Paul's Presbyterian Junior Auxiliary at their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening in the lecture hall of the church. The president, Miss May Smith, presided. The study period was taken by Vera Dow, her subject being "Great Women of the Old Testament," exemplified in Hannah. A duet, "Anywhere With Jesus," was sung by Jean Sloan and Annie McMillan. A social hour was enjoyed at the close.

Pays Tribute To Press Of Canada

Mrs. Geo. Black, M.P., Says Reporters Honorable, Accurate

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Oct. 23.—Newspapermen today had a bill of health terming them reliable, honorable and accurate, from Mrs. George Black, M.P. for the Yukon.

"There is no need to license or muzzle the press in Canada," she said addressing the Vancouver branch of the Canadian Women's Press Club last night on "Parliamentarians and the Press."

"Most parliamentarians," she added, "welcome the opportunity of presenting their policies and views to the public through the press. During my sixteen years in Ottawa as the wife of an M.P. and now as one, I have always found the members of the press most reliable, with a sense of honor on releasing copy and accurate in important matters. I have never known a member of the press guilty to betray a confidence and I have known several to sacrifice big 'scops' rather than break faith or release their knowledge ahead of the appointed time."

"Some of the very finest men in Canada have been members of the press gallery. I am glad, too, to see greater representation of our sex there. There were three at the last session."

Of course sometimes stories get garbled, Mrs. Black said, confining to a certain personal fear in this matter. She herself had been credited with shielding "Soapy Smith," the Skagway, Alaska, bad man, when he was a fugitive from the Mounted Police. This, she said, was "too ridiculous" as Soapy Smith was shot in Skagway in 1898, had never to her knowledge been in Dawson, and of course there were no Northwest Mounted Police in Skagway.

Junior League Held Dance

A successful novelty dance, under the auspices of the Junior League, was held Wednesday evening at the K. of C. Hall. The music was supplied by Len Acres' orchestra. Added feature were tap dances by Mr. Ray Hunt and waltz choruses sung by Miss Lily Conroy.

Novelty dances during the evening were a balloon dance won by Miss Peggy Davis and Jimmie Mann, a novelty number dance and a spot dance won by Miss Lily Conroy, Miss Emily Speas, Mr. Johnny Lee and Mr. R. Watson. The hall was decorated with autumn flowers and was festive with fancy hats, balloons and serpentine.

The dance was convened by Miss Mona Kelpin assisted by Mrs. Pogden and the Misses Agnes Grant, Nellie Cannon, Agnes Bantley, Nora O'Connell, Mary Morry, Joan Colbert, Lay O'Neill, Kate O'Connell and Kay Morry.

Princess Re-covers Chairs

Princess Royal, Queen Mary's only daughter, and her husband, Lord Harewood, have set themselves a formidable needlework task.

They are determined to re-cover in petit point every one of the three dozen small armchairs which furnish the long gallery of Harewood House, Yorkshire.

Lord Harewood is an expert at embroidery. He was taught by his mother, who worked a magnificent screen which now stands in the library of Harewood House. This screen took thirteen years to complete.

The pattern chosen for the new armchair covers is a design of British game birds against a background of heath. Each chair will be upholstered in its new cover as soon as the embroidery is completed.

The Princess Royal's decision to tackle the chair covers has given added impetus to a fashion for petit point embroidery now popular among society women.

Some are working intricate designs on covers for dressing table stools. Others are embroidering firecreens with Victorian rose patterns. Huppe, white designs, tiny bunches of flowers and sprigs of foliage against pastel backgrounds — are also being copied and designers at London's Royal School of Needlework are now being constantly asked for these period patterns.

In producing semi-transparent glass of neutral tint nickel plays an important part.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

By DECK MORGAN

Copyright, 1936

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KAY DUNN, pretty young nurse, is hired as a stewardess on Overland Airways and, the same day, meets TED GRAMAM, veteran pilot who flies the Trans-Pacific route.

Kay is assigned to the western division of the service. MONTE BLAINE, an apprentice pilot, pays her marked attention. Monte is daring, romantic, but Kay is more interested in Ted, who she and Dickie, Ted's adopted seven-year-old son, become close friends.

Ted leaves on a flight across the Pacific. When he returns Kay and Dickie are waiting for him. Ted asks Kay to have dinner with them, but the Japanese servant has nothing in the house to eat except canned beans. Kay herself prepares the dinner. Ted is pleased at Ted's compliments.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XI

Ted's courtship—if it could be called—was the strangest Kay had ever known. He made it quite plain that he wasn't interested in matrimony. Nevertheless, she was attracted by his air of quiet resolution; even when she rebelled against it, she could not resist this attraction.

Ted was too reserved, too matter-of-fact, to be exciting company. Kay had learned that one may not judge the quality of experience. The quality of accomplishment can be judged, though, and she never doubted the worth of Ted's accomplishments in the air.

She admired him, loved him. One seemed inseparable from the other. Monte Blaine was always about and tried to see her whenever she had a free moment. She refused his invitations steadily, but if Ted had any plans that included her, she always accepted.

Monte was exciting but reckless;

she never had occasion to distrust Ted.

He had come back from his last trip to the Orient with a new, inspired look in his eyes. Kay observed it as soon as the ship came in. She had been waiting at the quay to see him, to tell him that she couldn't get leave for Dickie from military school this time. The child had been disconsolate, and had shed some tears.

"Sorry the little shaver couldn't come down to see us make port," Ted said. "But I'm glad of one thing—I'll be able to see you tonight. You look simply swell."

"Thank you!"

"What time will you be free to go to dinner?"

Kay hesitated. It was Doris Lee's last night in Oakland for a long while and Kay had allowed Doris to prepare dinner for the pair of them.

"I don't know, Ted," she said. "I promised Doris—"

"Oh, Doris is a good girl!" he said, laughing. "She has a heart of gold, but I can't let her get in my way."

Kay laughed. "Doris is the best friend I have. Lots of people don't appreciate her. She's grown a shell about her, like a turtle. Back east she fell in love with one of your apprentice pilots, Ralph Bangs, but she doesn't trust him any more. Says he has a girl in every port."

Ted chuckled. "I'll tell you what I'll do! I'll call up Ralph, tell him to report to your apartment at dinner time, and Doris will have to entertain him. Then you call Doris and say you won't be home for dinner. That leaves a dinner for two and she will have to ask Ralph to stay. Perhaps it will lead to a reconciliation."

"It may mean murder," Kay then warned. "But I'll take the chance. They tell me Ralph's a model land now."

"I'm glad to hear that—from you," Ted said seriously. "We need serious-minded pilots for Trans-Pacific Airways."

"Where are we going for dinner?" Kay asked.

"We'll dine-out and then go back to my place. I want to talk to you," he added. "I want to tell you about the last trip when Dickie isn't around to ask a lot of questions."

They dined in a little Ship Grill overlooking the lights of the bay. All through the meal, Kay observed a curious light in Ted's eyes—those pale blue eyes that had seen so much danger. She wondered about it, wondered why Ted eyed her as he did.

Later they stopped at the little house on the beach and Ted served them coffee. About the room were many of the trophies of Ted's flying career. Front a window Kay could see the Trans-Pacific air liners at anchor in the harbor, bobbing up and down like surface ships.

Ted brought out a giant map and showed her the four-day course across the Pacific Ocean, via Honolulu, Midway, Wake, Guam and Manila. He told her about the quiet achievement of the Trans-Pacific flight.

It had meant five years of steady planning, but Ted had learned patience early in his career. He had been a pioneer in establishing air service to the tropics. He was one of the few pilots to have more than 10,000 hours in the air to his credit.

He showed her, too, a map of the world flight called "Around the World in Twenty Days." It included a regular commercial timetable flight around the world, in which the Trans-Pacific Airways was to play a major part.

Ted didn't talk much about his own part in all this achievement. He talked a lot about the engineers, the new direction finders, the designers and mechanics.

He went on, speaking of his ideals and aspirations in life. There had been a time, he explained, when he had been impulsive, reckless in the air. That was when his young wife had died, fifteen years ago. Since that time a life of danger had left its mark on him. He wasn't just maturity. Scientific planning for real progress in the air had changed his nature.

Kay sat listening, her hands folded neatly in her lap. She couldn't take her eyes from his face. He was so earnest, so fervently sincere. Every word he said had the ring of truth, the parol of his admirable character for real progress in the air had changed his nature.

When he told her about the jade market at Macao his voice seemed to carry her across the ocean, so that she walked along the beach, admiring the pieces of jewelry.

Things were among stories, too, incidents involving members of the crew on the four-day flights across the Pacific.

He told her about the wild birds on Midway Island, the alligators, the crocodiles, the snakes, the lizards, the green that were the tiny tufts of coral reefs in the middle of the blue ocean. The ocean swells rolled across the barriers of coral in waves sometimes fifty feet high, but inside the lagoon where the Marliners came to rest all was as quiet as in a pond.

He told her about the cosmopolitan amusements under Diamond Head in Hawaii of surf-riding on the beach at Waikiki.

In that evening she came to love the Trans-Pacific flight, as Ted loved it.

He took out some articles of jade he had bought at Macao, and laid them before her on the table. "I bought the ring for you," he said. "But you may have anything else you want."

Smiling, she tried on the ring. It was one of the most beautiful she had ever seen.

Ted said, laughing, "It matches your eyes."

"My eyes?" she said a little ruefully. "Ted, this is too lovely for words. I adore it. You have such excellent taste. I should like to have it, but—"

"—just because I've tried to do things for Dickie when you're away—"

"Oh, Dickie!" Ted said. "For the moment I had forgotten about him. He looked at her intently for a few seconds, then went on. "I was thinking of you when I bought that ring. I thought about you a lot on the last trip. Up there in the clouds you see things pretty clearly."

"Thank you," she said prettily. "Then, of course, I shall wear it."

Ted went on. "It's these modern times, people seem to have such naive about such things. They don't even ask the question. They just seem to grow into it! But, Kay, I want you to marry me."

Selective Buying With Advances on Wall St. Market

Associated Press
New York, Oct. 23.—Slow but insistent stock market demand today lifted selected oils, utilities, corporations, motors and specialties.

At the same time many of the recent leaders, including steel and rails, had rather tough sledding most of the session. Transfers were around 1,600,000 shares.

Stocks with the greatest climbing power apparently were buoyed by cheerful company earnings, together with increased and extra dividends in a number of instances.

Traders, however, were still a bit wary. Some were inclined to stand aside pending the outcome of the election. Lessening of European tension was said to have been helpful.

Except for especially favored shares the list showed about a sideways fourth hour when many backward issues put on a mild rally.

Bonds and commodities were uneven and foreign currencies quiet.
Wheat at Chicago dipped 1/4 to 1/2 of a cent a bushel and corn was off 1/4 to 1/2.

ronto mining share market today

Wheat Futures Lower On Winnipeg Market

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—Wheat prices were weak on the Winnipeg grain exchange today, with bearishness the predominant note in trade news. Values closed 1 to 1 1/2 cents lower, October at $1.09, November $1.10, December
$1.07, and May $1.08 1/2.

Export sales of Canadian wheat were negligible, and with little support in evidence, prices declined easily under free liquidation.

Reports two cargoes of Argentine wheat had been bought by Italy, with that country also a purchaser of futures at Buenos Aires, were ascribed as bearish.

reports from Argentina prompted selling at Liverpool that left prices at the close 1/4 to 1/2 lower.
Chicago was easy.

Argentina's wheat exports this week increased from 1,558,000 bushels last week to 1,979,000. Australia cleared 1,062,000, against 1,526,000 bushels last week.

Fair demand for higher grades of wheat held spreads firm in the cash-grain market. Coarse grains prices were "with wheat" though "wheat" at times displayed independent strength.

BETTER TONE ON BOND MART

Associated Press
New York Oct. 23.—Listed bond prices marshalled greater resistance to selling today and the previous decline in many issues was stemmed.

The Treasury list put up a better front along with corporate bonds generally, but gains were small and uneven. Foreign loans were quiet and mixed.

Two Canadians Draw Tickets On Favorite In Irish Sweepstake

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETER SALLAWAY

STARTING in an atmosphere of decided skepticism as to how it would "catch on" with the public, England's first real six-day bicycle race, held recently, ended in a blaze of glory and almost universal enthusiasm by the crowds, and the future of the sport in the British Isles appears assured. Victorians took special interest in the race through the fact that both Torchy and Doug Peden competed in the event. Torchy had the bad luck to be forced out of the race in its early stages through losing his partner owing to injuries.

A prominent English paper had the following comment to make on the race and the future of the sport in Britain:

"Held at Wembley, and contested by thirty of the world's finest riders representative of eleven different nations, the race was attended by fairly pleasing crowds in its early stages. However, as it progressed towards its finish and it became evident that there would be a thrilling tussle for first place, the crowds swelled nightly. On the final night 12,000 enthusiasts jammed the great arena. Other thousands, many of whom tried unsuccessfully to get standing room, and others as high as £1 for it, had to content themselves with waiting outside in the street to hear the result. In all, throughout the six days and nights of racing, some 65,000 people watched the riders circling round and round on their grueling 'ride to nowhere'."

"Some indication of how grueling an undertaking a six-day bicycle race is for the competitors is given by the fact that the average total sleep for each rider for the entire week was only fifteen hours.

"Altogether the contestants collected between them some £6,000 in prizes. Special prizes amounted to £1,000. Some of the special prizes resulted from the interesting system of 'prizes' which are permitted during six-day races. A 'prize' is a prize offered by any casual member of the crowd. For instance, an announcement may suddenly be made that 'Mr. So-and-so offers £50 for a ten-mile sprint' thereupon the riders indulge in a desperate sprint for ten miles, the winner receiving the £50 prize.

"So delighted are the sponsors of the race with the support given to it by the public, that plans are already afoot to stage another six-day race in London during November of next year. This will be yet another star attraction for the thousands of visitors who will be in London in May, 1937, to see the coronation of King Edward VIII. The prize will be £5,000—in golden sovereigns. Other plans are afoot to stage a race in Birmingham.

"From all over the country cycling enthusiasts came to London for the race, and they came awheel. The scene in the car parking space outside the stadium on the final night was amazing. Thousands upon thousands of bicycles were packed tightly into the park, and their owners had a hard time finding their respective machines when the time came to set out for home.

"Six-day cycling, contrary to general belief, originated in the British Isles. The first race was held in England over forty years ago, but, with the exception of a much smaller race which was held here in 1923, the sport had practically died out until this year.

"Six-day racing is extremely popular in the United States, where many wrongly believe it originated. Races are held in many of the biggest cities throughout the country. It is also highly popular on the Continent, especially in France.

"This year's race in London was remarkable for an unprecedented number of spills, although none was particularly serious. Empire captained by the English partnership of Southall and Owens dropped out in the early stages owing to injuries, and in the end the only Empire team to finish was that of Lepage and Peden of Canada, who were ninth. Only nine teams of the original fifteen finished."

Largest Pool In Year to Be Split Next Wednesday

Prize Fund Totals $8,044.825; Several Canadians Get Other Horses

Odd Scenes at Drawing Today

Associated Press
Dublin, Oct. 23.—Two Canadians drew tickets on Sir Abe Bailey's Dan Bulger, the betting favorite, in the draw today for the Irish Free State Hospitals Sweepstake on the Cambridge Stakes, to be run at Newmarket, England, October 28.

No Canadians held tickets on Noble King or Harina, joint second favorites.

Only ticket numbers and non de plumes of the lucky Canadians were made public owing to Canadian legislation forbidding lotteries.

The total prize fund was announced today at £1,608,965 ($8,044,825), the largest of the last five drawings.

This figure has not been exceeded since the Grand National subscription in 1935.

The total fund for the Derby drawing in May was $6,266,873.

Total receipts were announced as £2,706,291 ($13,531,455). The prize fund will be divided into sixteen units of $100,000 ($500,000) each with ten residual prizes of $268,108 ($4,482,500) each.

Lord Powers-Court, chairman of the Irish Hospitals Trust, hailed the "astonishing success" of the lottery.

NURSES MAKE DRAW

Amid scenes of operatic splendor, smiling Irish nurses drew the tickets from the revolving drum, centre of a stage reproduction of "The Enchanted Garden."

The drawings were to nominate winners for these prizes: In each of the sixteen units.

First—$30,000 ($150,000) for the owner of the ticket on the horse which won the Cambridge Stakes next Wednesday.

Second—£15,000 for ticket owner whose horse comes in second.

Third—£10,000 for the third horse's ticket holder.

Sixty-two (the total number of horses originally entered in the race) other prizes—£384 each ($4,608) each.

One hundred cash prizes of £100 ($400) each.

The assembly room of the Stately old Mansion House, scene of the well-ordered ticket selections, was transformed into a fanciful replica of scenes from Cluck's opera "Armide."

The nurses, discarded their customary starched uniforms and donned costumes of famous opera stars. The drum stood in front of a brilliant background of musical scores on which great, golden notes were painted.

A gigantic dragon spread its claws above the stage in simulated defence of the treasures being pulled from the slowly turning drum.

REBUILD ENTRANCE

The entrance to the Mansion House was rebuilt to portray the entrance to the mythical Valhalla Hall, celebrated in Wagnerian operas as the resting place for heroes killed in battle.

Drawings for horses were to occupy the entire session today with tomorrow reserved for cash and residual prize drawings.

Of the sixty-two originally entered, only twenty-five horses remained on the list for the race at Newmarket next week.

The favorite in latest betting was Bulger at 100 to 15 with Noble King and Harina next at 100 to 8. Finalist 100 to 8 and Pegomias at 100 to 6.

Following is a list of the Canadians who drew horses:

AN46831, Kayo; AJ06085, Lucky Agnes; BK80073, Uncle, on Pappyrette.

AB26477, Grand Papa, on Chuchoteur.

Group of St. Louis Business Men May Secure Browns of American League

St. Louis, Oct. 23.—For the second time since Phil Ball's death in October, 1933, persistent reports of negotiations for the purchase of St. Louis Browns had some foundation in fact yesterday.

"A deal is on," President Will Harbridge of the American League told The Post-Dispatch over the telephone from Chicago. He said he did not know who the negotiators were.

The newspaper identified them as a group of St. Louisans, including Donald L. Barnes, president of the American Investment Company, and William O. Dewitt, treasurer of the National League St. Louis Cardinals.

The Browns, the league's "problem child" since Ball's death, have been directed the last two seasons by the executors of his estate.

BAER WINDS UP HIS TOUR

Former Heavyweight Champion Going Home; Not a Big Success

Chicago, Oct. 23.—No more chin-pounding for Max Baer in his comeback campaign, until after the first of the year, and perhaps not even then. The impression prevails the Californian never will attempt to regain the world's heavyweight championship which he lost to James J. Braddock a year ago.

On the plea he was somewhat to see his family after an absence of three months Baer, his brother, Buddy, and Manager Ancil Hoffman, today were on their way back to California, headed for Hoffman's ranch near Fair Oaks. Behind them they left Trainer Izzy Kilne to offer explanations.

"Max is homesick," Kilne said, "so the tour was cut short."

SOCCER GAMES ON TOMORROW

First Division Clubs Will Engage in Double-header at Athletic Park

Tomorrow afternoon's first division football programme will see another double-header staged at the Athletic Park by the Victoria and District League.

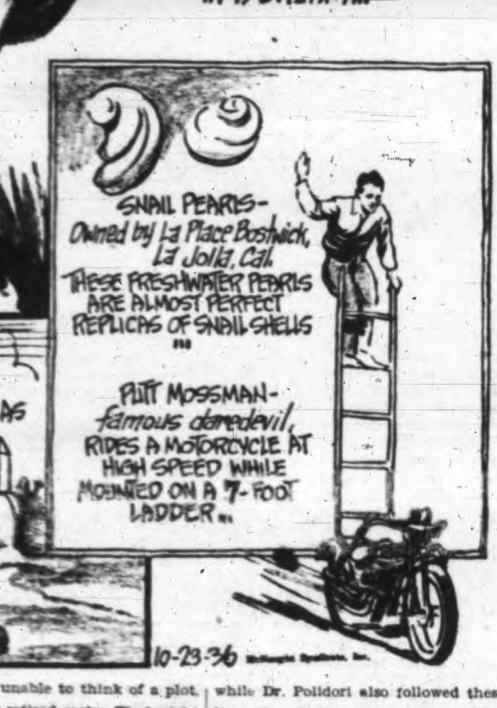

The opening, slated for 2 o'clock, will bring together the Victoria West, undefeated league leaders, and the Seaside Thistles, occupants of last position. J. Robb will be referee.

This encounter will be followed by an engagement between Victoria City and Equinault with D. Swan in charge.

Tomorrow will also mark the opening of the second division with the Victoria West and Coopers meeting at Ballin Park at 2:30 o'clock with W. J. Cull as referee.

Winnipeg's-Regina In Grid Playoff

Two Great Western Canadian Rugby Squads Battle Tomorrow at Regina; Winnipeg Will Be Without Services of Hanson

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—Confident they can continue their attack where they left off last week-end, Regina Roughriders are developing "trial" plays in preparation for Winnipeg's invasion of the Saskatchewan capital tomorrow in the first game of the western rugby play-offs.

The Dominion champions finished the western conference schedule, although losing 9-7 to Regina here last Saturday, with a two-point margin over Riders and they took this margin into the total-point series at Regina this week-end and Winnipeg next.

The Alberta title is at stake at Calgary tomorrow when Calgary Bronks meet the undefeated University of Alberta team. The winner will advance to the western final with British Columbia survivors. A. W. Matthews, Alberta Rugby Union official, announced last night Bronks had forfeited their right to a bye into the provincial final by playing their first team in a union fixture.

In the Vancouver Big Four, Marathons will tackle University of British Columbia, which has yet to win a game this season.

Ralph Pierce, Regina backfielder, will return to Regina lineup tomorrow. He has recovered from a shoulder injury but Louis Chumlich, giant line-man, will be kept on the bench with an injured knee until the game in Winnipeg Oct. 31.

Pat Hanson, elusive Tug halfback, will not accompany the team to Regina, but all other players are in shape and Winnipeg hope to have Hanson back in harness for the second Regina game.

Husky Matmen To Show Here

Six Heavyweights to Appear on Wrestling Card Tomorrow Night

Fireworks are expected at the Tivoli gym tomorrow evening, when a quintette of out-of-town heavyweights and a local performer—clamber through the ropes, to do battle in a trio of all-star wrestling bouts. A local preliminary will open the show at 8:15 o'clock.

Bays and Navy Clash Tomorrow

Hockey Gossip

Lester Patrick, silver-thatched manager of New York Rangers, thinks Winnipeg is an ideal place for a National Hockey League team to train.

"The climate is perfect—brisk, cold—just what players are used to," he said, glancing at a thermometer which registered six degrees above zero.

Phil Watson, Montreal youngster who probably will catch a regular place with Rangers this campaign, is so fast he's hard to keep track of, according to the veteran centre Frank Boucher.

Don't be surprised to see a brand new line sporting colors of Detroit Red Wings this winter. The trio, Johnny Sherr, formerly of University of Michigan; Don Desoon, Regina product, and Howard Mackie, last season with Hamilton Tigers, Ontario Hockey Association champions, all look like big-time timber. The boys they may replace are Wally Kilrea, Johnny Sorrell and Pat Kelly.

Fred Herbert, a right-winger, will make his debut as a defenceman Sunday, teaming up with Bucko McDonald. Captain Doug Young will play with Hornets.

If New York Americans can make things attractive enough for big Nels Stewart who played a big part in their drive to the playoffs last season, they will have the opportunity of using him again. Property of Boston Bruins, Stewart has failed to come to terms with the Boston management and has been turned back to America.

As workout roughens up at Toronto Maple Leafs' camp in Galt, Ont., it becomes obvious that several youngsters will be disappointed—the veterans are coming through. Happy Day and King Clancy are practically assured of defence berths and there seems little chance of Red Horner being displaced.

It's a real battle for the other rear-guard slot left vacant when Andy Blair was sold to Chicago Black Hawks. Reg. Hamilton, former Toronto junior star, and Jack Church, who starred as a junior in Regina before coming to Toronto to play mercantile hockey, are both handing out stiff body checks to impress Coach Dick Irvin.

Meanwhile Blair was showing good form with Hawks in their camp at Hibbing, Minn. Working between Johnny Gottselig and Glenn Brydson, the big fellow threatened to knock for a row of assorted soup-ones the theory he was through as a forward.

Discount any talk about Montreal Maroons being weaker than last season—take it from Tommy Gorman. The talkative coach, who drove his red-shirts to the Stanley Cup in 1934-35 and to the top of the National League's Canadian section last season has confidence in his club, whether Hooley Smith decides to remain a rebel or not.

FUEL MEN WILL TACKLE SONS

Keen Battle Expected When Hoop Teams Meet at High School Tonight

What promises to be a fast and exciting hoop battle this evening at the High School gym, will be that between the Sons of Canada and Kingham-Gillespie. Both have yet to taste defeat in this season's intermediate A play and top place in the division will be at stake.

Both clubs emerged victorious in their initial fixtures and went into a first-place tie. Kingham-Gillespie, island champions, are defending their title, while the Canadians are a new entry.

Hoyle-Brown, still smarting from their defeat from Liberty Cafe, will oppose the Trade A's in a men's senior B match. Trade A's have dropped two games.

Oak Bay Merchants and Hudson's Bay will meet in the opener at 7:30 o'clock in a men's senior C encounter. The Oak Bay boys opened their season's play with a close win over the Canadian Scottish, and they should give the department store titleholders a good battle.

Sailors Reported Strong for Initial Match in Local Senior Rugby League; Two Intermediate Fixtures Scheduled

Those fighting Navy boys, who struggled thirteen years to win the Bannard Cup before they annexed the silver piece emblematic of the senior city rugby championship two seasons ago, level their guns at the Bays tomorrow. The sailors are expected to give the highly-rated James Bay Athletic Association a grand battle as the tugs go again in quest of the major local laurels at Macdonald Park. The game is scheduled to start at 3 o'clock.

Some of the "old men of the sea" who performed with the city championship squad two years ago will be still in the ranks as the white-shirted blue-jackets take the field. With them will be new talent drawn from the ranks of last year's senior B squad. And the combined force, with lots of weight and plenty of power in the pack, should make things exceedingly interesting for Bob McInnes's proteges.

The rowing club's mentor has revamped his backfield to a considerable extent to iron out the links that marred its play against the Scottish last Saturday and the revised edition may prove considerably smoother than the one used in the season opener.

NAVY LINE-UP

For the sailors, Bert Booth, rookie in sailor company this year, has replaced the stand-by, Bruce Robinson, as fullback, while "Snakes" Hall, a veteran blue-jacket, will hold down one wing and Charlie Williams the other. Chuck Sweet and Joe Paul will be inlads. Jim Arnott and Bill Smith are halfbacks.

The powerhouse scrum will include Corbin, Al Rutherford, A. McRae, Bert Barker, Bennett, George Bursfield, J. S. Stubs and "Nelly" Nelson, an octette that should lend plenty of strength to the squad.

Kenny Buxton, former Garrison wing, will replace Alec Gaunt on the James Bay Athletic Association wing, playing on the opposite side to George Langdon. Hallatt, who opened the season last Saturday as an inside three-quarter, will switch with "Buz" Brown and play right behind Walby Stipe as stand-off half. Brown and Ken Fleming will be inlads.

Roddy McInnes will again play fullback, while the scrum will feature as it was last week. Bob Blair, G. Petticrew, Croft, Brian Tibbin, Jack Ruttan, Chris Osher, Bert Simpson and Ronnie Burns will form the pack with Frank Johnson as a reserve. Gaunt will be spare backfield man.

INTERMEDIATES

Oak Bay Wanderers and the Fifth Brigade, will provide half the intermediate bill in a fixture at the lower Macdonald Park pitch, while Victoria College and the Navy Intermediates are scheduled to clash at Victoria High School ground in the other half of the programme.

The Wanderers-Gunners battle will mark the renewal of last year's feud, when the teams finished champions and runners-up respectively.

Phil Willis and Alan LeMarquand are scheduled to handle the two intermediate fixtures at High School and Macdonald Park respectively.

Friendly games for the weekend include a match between the Scottish Intermediates and University School, at Work Point, tomorrow, and a game between the Scottish seniors, and Duncan, up-island, on Sunday.

The Fifth Brigade Intermediates will line up as follows: Coaler, Smith, Bishop, Bridge, Winsby, Noel, Coomber, Russell, Bray, Dalgle, Doherty, Pellett, Varney, Doherty, Saunders, reserves, Uelphs, Scott and Mylre.

Two Great Teams Battle Tomorrow For English Soccer Lead

Derby County Is Favored to Whip Portsmouth Squad

With Return of International Club Should Regain Brilliant Form

Arsenal Opens $500,000 Stand

London, Oct. 23.—Derby County, deposed as leaders in the English Football League last week, meets Portsmouth, the new pace-setting squad, in the feature match of tomorrow's soccer programme. Portsmouth, with fifteen points, have a two-point margin over the County, who share second place with Brentford.

The match will be a battle of Titans and it is not unlikely Portsmouth will be forced to accept defeat. When Derby went under to Manchester City last Saturday by a 3 to 2 count it lacked the services of Barker, Keen and Crooks who assisted England against Wales. With the return of these players the Midlands will field their match-winning combination.

Brentford will also have the assistance of three internationals against Liverpool and, playing before a home crowd, may capture maximum points.

For the formal opening of its $500,000 grandstand, which is the last word in luxury, Arsenal will have Grimsby Town as an attraction. The Fishermen have built up a powerful squad and are now tied with three other clubs in fourth place. They will be at full strength with Glover leading the attack, and the Gunners will be strengthened by the inclusion of Bastin, their clever winger.

SECOND DIVISION
Second division play sees Bury, the leader, pitted against the strong Putnam club in London. Blackpool, runner-up, has a tough proposition against Southampton.

Luton Town is likely to retain its place at the top of the southern section third division, against Brighton, but Cardiff, in second place, may run into a snag against the peppy Watford outfit.

Chester, top-dog in the northern section, with a four-point margin over Lincoln City and Mansfield Town, visits Gateshead and should make short work of the door-mat of the division.

Glasgow, Oct. 23.—The more optimistic supporters of the Scottish Football League's cellar occupant, Queen of South, are hoping for a change of fortune after this week.

Will Be Starter

CHIEF HEATLEY
who will be the official starter for the races in the annual school children's gala to be held tonight at the Crystal Garden under the auspices of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club.

The first event will get under way at 8 o'clock. Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education, will present the prizes. Capt. R. W. MacMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Steamship Services, will present the Sir Edward Beatty Trophy.

They can't see the silver lining tomorrow, because they will be "picked on" by Glasgow Rangers.

In their thirteen starts to date the schedule has called for matches with practically all the leading clubs of the circuit, and the decisions have gone against them. Of ten entries in the loss column, six have been attributed to the leaders.

After the Rangers' contest the club meets St. Johnstone and then has a few encounters with teams in the "last ten."

St. Johnstone will take the field this week-end against Aberdeen on the leader's grounds. Although in thirteenth position, Saints lowered Hearts' colors last Saturday, 3 to 0, and the shut-out has given them renewed confidence.

In a second-place tie with Rangers, four points behind Aberdeen, Celtic should have no difficulty against Hibernians. The Hibs are far down in the championship table.

MOTHERWELL AWAY
Trailing the runners-up by one point, Motherwell performs away from home against Arbroath. Indications point to a Motherwell victory, while a real battle is on the books for Tynecastle Park, where Hearts and Kilmarnock, tied for fifth rung on the ladder, meet. On home territory, Hearts are favored.

Morton and St. Bernard's, pace-setters in the minor division, have "away" games. Morton has a tough one against Dumbarton, runner-up, while Saints should defeat King's Park.

WORLD SERIES CHEQUES BIG

Members of New York Yankees Get $6,430.55 for Winning Championship

New York, Oct. 23.—Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, officially cut the largest world series million in history yesterday when he mailed out cheques to the Yankees and Giants and players of the other first division clubs in each league.

Each club share for the Yankees amounts to $6,430.55, while the "cut" for the Giants is $4,655.39, a new record for the beaten club's share.

The Yankees split a total of $193,201.12 among thirty-six players, officials and club employees, while the Giants divided $126,800.74 among thirty-two individuals. Each club awarded twenty-seven full shares.

The total world series receipts of $1,304,399, including $100,000 from the radio rights, as well as the total players' pool of $460,002.66, set new records. The previous record receipts were $1,207,854 in 1926. The biggest players' pool previously had amounted to $419,736.60.

The remainder of the players' share, totaling $138,000.80, goes to the second, third and fourth place clubs in each league.

As undisputed winner of runner-up honors in the American League, the Detroit Tigers, 1935 world champions, draw $34,500.20. The St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs, who tied for second and third in the National League, each split $26,750.17.

The Chicago White Sox, third in the American circuit, get $23,000.13. The two fourth place clubs, Washington Senators and Pittsburgh Pirates, collect $11,500.07 each.

WILL CLOSE RACE SEASON

Canadian Campaign Ends at Toronto; No Outstanding Juveniles Produced

Toronto, Oct. 23.—Canada's most expensive sport—horse racing—has reached a 1936 climax. Tomorrow when a field of temperamental thoroughbreds thunder down the stretch in the last race at Duferin Race Track here, frenzied track followers—$2 show betters to fancy plungers—will stand on their seats, hang on to anybody's arm and yell lustily for their money-bearer for the last time this year.

Active interest began to lag three weeks ago. E. F. Seagrims, Waterloo, Ont., J. E. Smallman, London, and H. C. Hatch, Toronto, shipped their best horse flesh to the United States for the in-between season. Other stables will cross the line during the next two or three weeks.

A disappointment this season was the failure of any two-year-old to claim the juvenile crown and become winter-book favorite for the 1937 running of the King's Plate, Canadian turf classic. Chief argument centered about a pair of geldings, Pagan King and Goldure, owned by R. S. McLaughlin, Ottawa, and H. C. Hatch, respectively.

For years the plate favorite has been decided on performance in the Clarendon Plate and Coronation Stakes, final juvenile tests. Conditions for the Clarendon Plate were poor and as a result Golden Silence, a mud-loving unsexed son of Rockville-Lady Crest, triumphed. The gelding, owned by the Stindale Stable, romped through mud fetlock deep to score by a length over Goldure. Pagan King showed a decided disliking for the treacherous underfoot and lagged four lengths in the rear.

Better conditions existed for the Coronation Stakes and Pagan King won in a drive. Goldure and Golden Silence finished out of the money.

CHILEAN GETS DRAW IN DEBUT

Arturo Godoy Engages in Thrilling Ten-round Bout With Leroy Haynes

New York, Oct. 23.—Arturo Godoy, Chilean heavyweight champion, opened his New York campaign in the New York Hippodrome Wednesday night by fighting a furious ten-round draw with Leroy Haynes, veteran Philadelphia contender.

Godoy weighed 199½ and Haynes 197½.

The decision of Referee Johnny McAroy and the two judges was a draw, and the bout was one of the most exciting of the year. On the Associated Press score card Godoy won five rounds, Haynes three, and two were called even.

Minnesota Will Tackle Purdue

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Minnesota, for three years a swashbuckling terror of the gridiron, goes "on the spot" under Purdue's big guns tomorrow.

The bolliermakers, whose steam-roller attack has piled up 117 points in three victories, invade Minneapolis to put the finger not only on the Gopher hopes of another Western Conference and national title but also on their remarkable modern record of twenty straight wins and no losses in twenty-seven contests.

A red-hot subject for debate—"are the Gophers what they used to be"—should come up for some kind of decision, and 50,000 roaring fans will be in the jury box for what is generally regarded as Minnesota's stiffest test thus far this fall.

Hallowe'en Jamboree For Young Victorians

City to Sponsor Supervised Festivities at Parks on Night of October 31; Bonfires, Games and Refreshments Features

Plans for a Hallowe'en Jamboree for young Victorians, with bonfires and festivities in five of the city's parks, were announced today by Acting Mayor James Adam.

The festivities will be held along lines formerly advocated by the late William Marchant in an effort to divert the children from the streets on the last day of October.

In addition to providing organized amusement for the youngsters the scheme will tend to eliminate property damage by some of the less thoughtful.

Negotiations for the festivities proceeded today following a meeting between School Trustees Mrs. D. L. McLaurin, the acting mayor, W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, and John Baxter, mayor's secretary.

The same group will meet representatives of the different parent-teacher associations in the City Hall on Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock to make more definite arrangements for the celebrations.

PLANS FOR NIGHT

According to present plans, huge bonfires will be lighted in Stevenson's Memorial Park, Victoria West Park, Hollywood Park, Heywood Avenue grounds at Beacon Hill and Spencer's Park to give the young people of the different districts an opportunity to enjoy the fun.

Peanuts, apples and candy will be provided for the youngsters, along with a certain number of firecrackers. Ducking for apples, and other Hallowe'en games will be staged under the supervision of Y.M.C.A. leaders who have offered their cooperation for the evening. The peanuts will be provided by the city, but a subscription list will be opened for the donation of apples. Those wishing to subscribe either funds or fruit are requested to communicate with the mayor's secretary or the parks superintendent.

The committee in charge of the jamboree is making plans for the different parks during the evening and expects to furnish entertainment for thousands of children.

Police will furnish additional supervision for the event.

Special prizes will be given for the most unusual costumes and for the best home-made pumpkin Jack-o-lantern.

Italy May Quit Neutrality Pact

Associated Press
London, Oct. 23.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome today quoted well-informed official sources as having said Italy would resign from the Spanish non-intervention pact.

Tangier, Internationalized Zone in Morocco, Oct. 23 (Associated Press).—The capture of a cargo boat flying the Greek flag and carrying war materials valued at $2,000,000, reported by the Spanish Fascist gunboat Canovas was reported here today.

The cargo was said to include four batteries of artillery, 4,000,000 cartridges, 400 machine guns and 1,500 airplane bombs.

For years after the discovery of the reaction of sensitized surfaces to light, photographs were made on various metals, which accounts for daguerotypes, ambrotypes and tintypes.

My Boyhood Ambition

A Policeman

Though his first ambition was to be a policeman W. G. Crawford, manager of Woolworths, worked most of his life in the store business and would not change his job for anything.

The first dollar he earned was in his father's shop in Ontario. His first permanent position was in the wholesale drygoods firm of W. R. Brock, Toronto.

A few years later Mr. Crawford entered Woolworths. In 1919 he came west when he was transferred to Moose Jaw. For the last thirteen years he has been in Victoria.

"I had my life over again, I'd certainly be in the same firm, but I would start earlier," Mr. Crawford said.

The above picture of Mr. Crawford was taken when he was twenty-two years of age.

SEES FUTURE FOR SAANICH

Prof. E. M. Straight Lists Possibilities Before Real Estate Board

Saanich could be the greatest pear-growing country on earth. It could supply a large proportion of the seed that Canada imports from all over the world, could develop a new industry in the growing of nut and supply the city of Victoria's total requirements for melons, Professor E. M. Straight of the Dominion Experimental Farm told the Real Estate Board at its luncheon today.

"We have talked too much and done too little in the past. We have tremendous possibilities, if we only take advantage of them."

"You all have your pictures of what this country may become in the future. I hope we may see the complete realization of them all," he said.

Professor Straight spoke of the pressing need of an adequate water supply for Saanich, saying that the whole future of the peninsula depended on it. "It is a major problem," he said.

Without water the best fertilizer was wasted because there was nothing to dissolve it and list it through the plants.

Of the peninsula's opportunities, he listed the following:

Pears: Saanich, the greatest pear country on earth was unable last year to supply a cannery at Sidney with its needs, he claimed.

Seed: Those who had seen Saanich-grown seed had said the quality was the best on earth. The Puget Sound area was the centre of a major part of the United States seed-growing industry, and Saanich had more to offer than it. In one year Canada's pea seed imports had been more than 3,532,000 pounds.

Mint: Following experiments at the Dominion Farm, a California company had entered into a contract for the product of 1,000 acres in Saanich, provided it came up to specification. All that was needed was a sufficiently large still.

Popcorn: There were undeveloped possibilities in its production.

Melons: Many laughed at the idea of melon growing in Saanich, yet there were farmers who were prospering from this crop.

Sugar beets: Canada's two factories imported all their seed from abroad, yet excellent seed had been raised experimentally in Saanich.

Wheat: Excellent results had been obtained with high quality grain.

Mr. Straight was introduced and thanked by E. Frank Burton, president of the board.

Major and Mrs. Fullerton will attend the special Remembrance Day service at the Christ Church Cathedral, with colors, on Sunday, November 8, it was decided.

Saanich police yesterday brought before Magistrate J. F. G. five cases of driving to the common danger in the Saanich police court. Three drivers were fined $20 and two $10. Two motorists who were convicted on charges of failing to produce their driving licences when stopped by an officer were fined $5. There was one conviction against a cyclist for failing to have a light on his bicycle at night. The fine was $2. Chief Allan Rankin stated there had been a number of complaints about this practice among cyclists, and if it is not stopped prosecutions will be made.

With more than 100 taking part, the men's guild of St. Mary's, Oak Bay, last night held its eighth annual banquet, followed by a lengthy and entertaining programme. Right Rev. H. E. Sexton, Bishop of Columbia, took a prominent part in the event, voicing a strong appeal for a forward movement in the diocese. In this he amplified an earlier speech of Rev. Canon A. E. del. Nunn, Bishop Sexton also entertained the gathering with a wealth of amusing anecdotes. The history of the first tithe of Oak Bay, Hon. John Todd, pioneer of the fur trade, was told by B. A. McKelvie.

The James Bay Parent-Teacher Association held their general business meeting in South Park School Tuesday afternoon. The association have decided to create a fund towards a library for the use of pupils in their studies and a sum was voted towards the purchase of books. The association will be holding a party to be held in the newly-lighted and decorated auditorium on Wednesday evening, October 28, at 8 o'clock and will be in the nature of a social gathering. Refreshments will be given. A novel entertainment will take place at intermission, including a programme by Mrs. Dorothy Wilson's dancing pupils; Miss Violet Ockenkeden, soloist, accompanied by Miss Helen Ockenkeden, and C. Pinnimore, pianist. There will be a novel tombola and refreshments will be served. Anyone wishing to reserve a table may do so by telephoning Mrs. E. Day, E.3318.

Kenya Planter Seeking Home

Victoria Good Place to Settle in He Was Advised

Hearing that British Columbia was an ideal place to settle in, J. D. Lawson, sisal grower of Kenya Colony, British East Africa, set out to investigate for himself and is in Victoria today looking over the ground with the object of making his home here.

"When I thought of retiring, my friends advised me to try British Columbia or New Zealand," said Mr. Lawson at the Empress Hotel this morning.

"That is one of the reasons why I am here, but I am going to visit New Zealand first before deciding where to settle down."

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson are delighted with the climate here and are much impressed by Victoria and the island generally.

As far as the British people of East Africa are concerned, Hitler could have Tanganyika back and there would not be much of an outcry against it, says Mr. Lawson concerning the demands of the Nazi dictator to get the former German colonies back.

One of the disadvantages of the territory, he says, is that it is low lying and excessively hot as well as being infested with wild beasts. It is that it links up Kenya with Rhodesia and provides an all-British route from the Mediterranean Sea to Cape Colony.

After spending a few days in Victoria, Mr. and Mrs. Lawson plan to go south to San Francisco, from where they will sail for New Zealand. They say they will return to Victoria later.

Army Officers To Leave City

Major and Mrs. Robert Fullerton to Do Salvation Work in Edmonton

Major and Mrs. Robert Fullerton, officers in charge of Salvation Army social work here for the last five years, will leave early next week to take over duties at Edmonton. Both officers are veterans in Salvation Army work and are well known among army officials of the west.

Major Fullerton first started this work in 1909 when he went into training in Calgary. Subsequently he was slated for field work in eastern Canada.

Since then he has been superintendent of social institutions in Calgary, Regina, Winnipeg and Victoria. He is now concluding his second term here.

Mrs. Fullerton is in her thirty-second year of officership, her first appointment being Winnipeg. She also has been service-in both field and social work, having filled appointments in rescue and children's homes in Calgary, Alberta, Toronto and London, Ontario. Major and Mrs. Fullerton were married in Halifax, Nova Scotia in 1912. Three children will accompany them to Edmonton, Joy, Sidney and David.

Major and Mrs. Fullerton will be succeeded in Victoria by Adjutant and Mrs. Martin, who are at present assistant officers in the social work in Vancouver.

Fullerton to Receive $30,000

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Oct. 24.—C. P. Fullerton, former chairman of the board of trustees of the Canadian National Railways, will receive $30,000, one year's salary, as a retiring allowance. An order-in-council has been passed by the cabinet approving the payment.

It has also been learned the government has decided to retain Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the Canadian Radio Commission, in an advisory capacity to the newly-created Canadian Radio Broadcast Corporation which will replace the commission at the end of this month.

Pooled Charity Is Encouraged

Governor-General Speaks in Support of Federated Welfare Services

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Oct. 23.—As a curb to ill-directed individual charity, which "may be ill-informed, and therefore ineffective and even a waste of money," the Federated Welfare Services of Canada serve to "pool the good will of the citizens." The Governor-General said yesterday evening in an appeal for public support of the charity campaign now in progress.

This co-operation meant economy in working expenses and a wise strategy in direction, Lord Tweedsmuir said.

This "mass attack" on the benevolence of the citizens was something unknown in the United Kingdom, but his Excellency thought it might profitably be imitated. It is organized and directed into proper channels the forces of private philanthropy, with the happiest results.

Experts Take Big Loss

Master Players, Deceived By Sight of All Aces, Go Over Their Heads in Bidding for Game

By WM. E. McKENNEY

In the early days of contract, penalties mounting up into the thousands were taken almost as a matter of course. This was because players had not yet learned how to value the trick-taking power of their own cards, or how to combine the partnership holdings to reach the best final contract.

Nowadays, in tournament play, an almost sure way of breaking into print is to take a set of 1,000 or more, and the hapless player will find newspaper reporters crowding around to learn the lurid details of the disaster.

Today's Contract Problem

West is playing a small slam contract in no trump. On the opening lead, he plays the ace from dummy, and South drops the king. What should West do if, on play of the heart suit, he finds that South held five originally?

points, or four tricks, at his game contract in spades.

The first bidding error was made by East with his response of two diamonds with a four-card suit. It is still a good rule to respond with two of a suit to your partner's opening bid only when holding five or more.

Had East bid five no trump, it would probably have resulted much better. West could not be blamed for raising the diamonds to three, but his bid of four clubs can be based only on hope of a slam.

North opened the five of hearts, the only unbid suit, and then the fun began. The trick was won with the ace and a spade finesse taken.

North led another heart, and West's hand was wrecked. He could win in all only three trump tricks and three aces in the plain suits.

It was a just penalty for a bidding spree by himself and his partner. They had mixed their bids with too much hope and too little science. (Copyright, 1936, NEA Service Inc.)

Alberta People Want Action

Not Worried About Dividends As Long As Something Done Says M.P.P.

"I've heard more talk about dividends in British Columbia than I've heard in Alberta since the election," declared Fred Anderson, Social Credit M.P.P. for Calgary in the Alberta Legislature, addressing the first meeting of the newly-organized Victoria branch of the B.C. Social Credit League in the Truth Centre Hall, Fort Street, last night.

"Our people are satisfied we are giving them action and are not worrying about dividends. The farmers, especially, are more concerned about the just price.

"However, we are convinced that a dividend is the only way to equalize consumption and production so we are going to do it," he added.

Mr. Anderson, an informal speaker, recounted the social credit experiment in Alberta from its inception by Premier Aberhart in 1933, tracing the growth of their groups by voluntary co-operation, the dissemination of their gospel by weekly newspaper and radio, their eventual surprising victory at the polls and finally the steps that have been taken since the Aberhart government took over last year.

"We knew we weren't experts. We knew we would make mistakes," he said. "We thought we would have the sympathy of all the other governments in Canada. I know we have the sympathy of most of the people but I doubt now if we have the same feeling from the governments. And I know that a large proportion of the press is not sympathetic."

LEGALLY DEAD MAN RETURNS

J. O. Gifford, for Whose "Death" a Man Was Tried, Turns Up in Nevada

Associated Press
Reno, Nev., Oct. 23.—Jesse Owen Gifford went here last night as he read newspaper accounts of his "return to life" which mentioned his wife and two sons.

The forty-one-year-old war veteran, who admits an Alabama man was tried and acquitted five years ago for his supposed slaying, arrived in Reno from Susanville, Calif., where he has been employed.

Still hobbling on crutches as a result of an automobile accident, he read a dispatch from South Pittsburg, Tenn., which quoted Mrs. Gifford as saying she still loved him, but he would "have a lot of explaining to do," though she felt he ought to help support the children.

He cried openly as he read the dispatch, but refused to make any statement concerning his activities since he disappeared from his South Pittsburg home eight years ago.

WANTS SOLDIER'S BONUS
Gifford's identity was uncovered in Reno recently by the veterans' bureau after he had applied for his bonus. He needed the money because his leg was broken when he was hit by a taxicab at a Reno rodeo on July 4.

The disappearance of Gifford, and the finding of a body identified as his in the Tennessee River in 1931, led to the trial of an Alabama man for the slaying. He was acquitted. Gifford, however, was declared legally dead.

Gifford recently saw Joe Brain, told a nurse he was Gifford and she was quoted by The Chattanooga Times as saying he left home "because of ill-health."

The term "cowboys" was first used during the American Revolutionary War. It was applied to a band of Tories who stole cattle from both sides.

OFF-DAY FOR ROD ARTISTS

Few Manage to Induce Fish to Take Lures at Cowichan Bay

Cowichan Bay was teeming with fish but they refused to be lured. Enticing bucktail flies which flicked the surface and shining lures played just beneath were practically ignored. These were the conditions scores of anglers encountered over the mid-week half-holiday at Cowichan Bay. Catches were few.

The odd person managed to net about half a dozen coho. Some never even got a strike, and anglers were irritated to see cohoes swimming around their boats and being unable to catch them.

W. E. Boeing, millionaire sportsman from Seattle, landed nineteen fine specimens on Tuesday. It was reported today Wednesday's catches included: Mrs. Lowe, Seattle, eight; Ted Fatt, fishing with Bill Walters, Vancouver, nine; W. B. Christopher, Roger Monteith and Cray Allen, seven between them.

DEMONSTRATION OF FIRST AID WORK

The first social event of the winter season was staged by the St. John Ambulance Brigade and Nursing Division at their headquarters on Wednesday evening.

A short talk was given by the divisional superintendent, E. Harwood, who briefly outlined the work of the brigade and extended an invitation to all who have first aid certificates to join and obtain practical experience of first aid work.

A first aid team gave a realistic display and Chief Officer Stokes explained to the audience the various treatments given and the reason for them.

Musical items included solos by Mrs. Clark, humorous readings by Miss Jean McKay, recitations by the talented Birkett children, Bert Lilley treated the audience to many good laughs with his funny stories and humorous songs, and Mrs. White entertained with musical selections which were greatly appreciated.

In moving a vote of thanks to the artists, the secretary of the social committee, E. G. Beasly, outlined the social programme proposed for the winter season, including card parties to be held the first week in every month, and dances, the first of which will be held on November 18.

Mr. Beasly also stated that all money received from these social activities will provide uniforms for members of the brigade.

During refreshments, the divisional surgeon, Dr. E. L. McNiven, gave a short, interesting address.

An hour of dancing to the music supplied by Mrs. White ended a very enjoyable evening.

The Consequences

Housekeeper: "I regret to say, sir, that your son and the cook have eloped."

Rich Old Party: "Thunderation! Then we shan't have any dinner!"

LIST PLAYS NOT ELIGIBLE

Forty-two Plays Barred From Forthcoming Dominion Drama Festival

Dramatic clubs throughout the island are already making plans for the forthcoming Dominion Drama Festival, which is a major feature of the dramatic season.

Although it is understood no official list of the barred plays has been received locally by the chairman of the Vancouver Island Elimination Contest, the following list published by The Curtain Call, official publication of the Dominion Drama Festival, covers the plays not eligible for presentation in the 1937 festival: "And Senneth Rain," "Saturday Night," "Razoo's Boots," "L'Innocent," "Bong Sang ne ment pas," "L'Aiglon," "Chotard & Cie" (Act II), "Vindication," "To the Dead Man," "God Caesar," "Smoka Screens," "Trial Scene from 'Saint Joan,'" "St. Simon Stylites," "His Widow's Husband," "Fantastic Flight," "And So to Bed" (Act II), "The Traveling Man," "The Poacher," "Devil Among the Skins," "The Bear," "Pinocchio" (Act I), "Come Out of Your Cage," "Judge Lynch," "Wellsie McMath," "Festival of the Senses," "Napoleon Crossing the Alps," "The Magnanimous Lover," "And As For Jesus," "Twenty-five Cents" and "Late Christopher Bean."

Again this year a prize of $100 will be awarded to the author of the best play, judged as a dramatic composition, written by a resident of Canada, entered in the festival. It will be remembered with interest "Twenty-five Cents" was the play which received the first prize in Ottawa last season and was written by a Canadian, Major W. Eric Harris.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

OCTOBER 23, 1911

(From the Times Files)
The growth of the telephone service in Victoria is shown by the number of new services which have been installed since January 1, the total local services now numbering 4,970, an increase of about 1,100 in the last ten months.

The good progress which is being made with the boulevarding of the city streets in connection with the paving contract, although criticized in some quarters for the reason that the work cannot be completed in time for the whole improvements to be charged up at once under the system which the City Council has adopted, yet shows that an earnest attempt is being made to add to the park-like appearance of the city streets.

At a meeting of the directors of the Convalescent Home and Emergency Hospital at Duncan, it was decided to enlarge the hospital building at once. Plans were submitted and approved and the architect, H. Wilson, was instructed to call for tenders.

The Victoria and Esquimalt branch of the Navy League has no cause to be ashamed of the demonstration at the Victoria Theatre on Saturday evening to commemorate the 16th anniversary of the battle of Trafalgar and the death of Nelson. The speakers were Capt. Clive Phillips-Wolley, the president of the branch; Dean Doull and W. E. Oliver.

Judge Howay went over to the mainland for the week-end, and returned yesterday to resume his judicial duties here today. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Hounsell and small son, Reginald, have gone on an extended trip to England.

PORT ALBERNI

Port Alberni, Oct. 23.—Honoring Mrs. A. B. Bird of Moose Jaw, who is the house guest of her sister, Mrs. E. J. Cronk, Mrs. R. J. Buro was hostess at the tea hour on Tuesday.

Other guests included Mrs. H. R. Carter, Mrs. Fred Weaver, Mrs. J. L. Dunn, Mrs. E. J. Cronk, and Miss Margaret Smith of Clifford, Ontario, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Carter.

Honoring Miss Harriet Tuttle, R.N., of the nursing staff of the West Coast Hospital, whose marriage takes place at the end of the month, Miss Agnes Patterson was hostess at a miscellaneous snower at her home on Wednesday evening, when the gifts were presented in a basket decorated in mauve. Guests were: Miss Ellis, matron of the West Coast Hospital, Mrs. W. Rice, Mrs. W. Pannell, Mrs. H. Miles, Misses McGarrigle, M. Page, Muriel Page, Dana Rowan, Mamie McDonald, R.N. Jean Murray, R.N., Barbara Murray, R.N., Esther Bird, R.N., Martha McDonald, R.N., M. Campbell, J. Phillips, Violet Patterson and Belle Patterson.

Celebrating the birthday anniversary of Mrs. George Richardson, friends paid a surprise visit and played bridge Tuesday evening. Presentation of a luncheon set was made by the guests, who included Mr. and Mrs. A. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. P. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. G. Dunbar, Miss Ivy Drinkwater and T. Ruckwell.

Members of the Alberni Badminton Club were "at home" on Tuesday evening to club members from Port Alberni and Great Central.

Kenneth Ross, principal of Great Central Public School spent last week-end in Victoria, visiting his parents, Colonel Lorne and Mrs. Ross, Courtney Street.

Miss Lila Smith spent the week-end in Victoria.

NATIVE SONS TAKE OFFICE

Leaders of Local Assembly of S.O.C. Installed by National Officer

Newly-elected officers of the Victoria Assembly No. 1, Native Sons of Canada, were installed yesterday evening at ceremonies presided over by Arthur C. Pike, deputy national president.

Mr. Pike was assisted by C. J. McDowell, James Jones, R. D. Smith, C. McNeill, A. Scourah, E. McIntyre, Fred Tate and Ralph Cruickshank. Officers installed were: President, R. J. Bacon; first vice-president, W. J. Holman; second vice-president, E. Aubrey Wallis; treasurer, R. B. Ditchburn; financial secretary, E. Butler; recording secretary, R. D. MacLachlan; historian, R. E. Goddard; chaplain, J. E. Oliver; sergeant-at-arms, M. J. Haley; inner guard, H. Sheppard; outer guard, N. L. Camus, and assistant recording secretary, Alan Baker.

Three new candidates for membership were initiated. Refreshments were served.

DUNCAN

Duncan, Oct. 23.—The regular meeting of the Duncan branch of the Parent-Teacher Association was held in the K. of P. Hall on Tuesday evening. Mrs. A. Leeming was in the chair. A committee was appointed to go into the plan of starting a soup kitchen, composed of Miss Ryan, H. E. Blanchard and R. A. Thorpe; Dr. W. B. Clayton gave an interesting talk on his recent trip to New Zealand.

A branch of the P-T-A District Council was formed to include Cobble Hill, Duncan, Lake Cowichan and Chemainus. An invitation will be sent to the Ladysmith P-T-A to have representation on the council.

Duncan, Oct. 23.—The board of directors of the Duncan Hospital met at the Indian Office on Monday, E. W. Neel presiding. The financial report for the month showed revenue totaling $5,019.38 against an expenditure of $5,347.69, leaving a deficit of $328.31. E. W. Neel will attend the B.C. Hospital Association annual meeting in Victoria, November 11, 12 and 13, as president, and the matron and secretary were appointed delegates for the hospital.

The house committee reported the hospital, in spite of alterations under way, was still able to care for some sixty patients. It was suggested that various organizations in the district might be approached to help in equipping the new building. There will be six new private rooms, besides the wards, and a considerable amount of new equipment will be required. The building is progressing favorably.

Cantata "Ruth" At St. Andrew's

The Thanksgiving cantata, "Ruth," will be given in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, by an augmented choir under the direction of Jesse A. Longfield, organist and choirmaster. This is in connection with the seventieth anniversary of the church.

The cantata "Ruth," composed by Alfred R. Gaul, who wrote "The Holy City," "Israel in the Wilderness," "The Passion," and many other popular sacred and secular cantatas, is a truly beautiful piece of music, composed of solos, duets, trios and choruses of very fitting on the occasion of the anniversary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church.

The characters in the cantata are Miss Isabelle Crawford as "Ruth," Mrs. P. W. Hawes as "Naomi," Miss Evelyn Telford as "Orpah" and Arnold W. Trevett as "Boaz."

The collection will be given towards the thankoffering and restoration fund of the church.

Different Hopes

"Heaven!" said the passenger, as the bus got out of control. "I hope we don't hit anything." "I too," said the driver. "The road ends at a cliff further along."

Stamp News

By I. S. Klein

Sudden appearance of a new issue of King Edward VIII stamps for a fiscal year took the stamp collector of America by surprise. As a result, there will be very few first-day covers of this short series. These experimental stamps may not be offered again if collectors' adverse criticism is taken seriously. Three denominations were tried—½d, 1½d, 2½d.

The one-penny black of Great Britain, long considered the first stamp ever issued, may now take second place with discovery of a Cape of Good Hope one-penny stamp that appears to have been issued in 1832, eight years before the penny black came out. This stamp was found on a copy of a newspaper that had been mailed in South Africa in 1832.

France is expected to issue a series of special stamps covering each of its twenty-three colonies when its great exposition in Paris opens next year. Each set will include six values.

Australia is planning to issue a commemorative set in 1937 to celebrate the founding of New South Wales.

With New York's World Fair more than two years off, plans are being laid for the issue of a commemorative series of stamps in connection with the event.

A good investment in United States stamps today is the imperforate 16c airmail special delivery. It is going up fast.

Victoria Man's Gift Dedicated

A richly-decorated rood beam surmounted by three sculptured figures, the gift of A. H. Ridgeman, who died a month ago in Victoria after living here for fifty years, has been dedicated in the parish church at Bude Haven, Cornwall.

Mr. Ridgeman was employed in the customs office and lived at 941 Balmoral Avenue. He was a native of Bude and taught in the Bude elementary school.

Dedication of the beam concurred with a memorial service for Mr. Ridgeman.

A large crucifix is suspended from the beam, which was a centenary gift. The crucifix and statues of the Blessed Virgin and Beloved Disciple are artistically colored. The carved beam rests on two angel corbels.

To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises.

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this paragraph and hand it to them, and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer, perhaps from total deafness. The medicine can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist a 1 oz. bottle of Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home, and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmit is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian Tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective. Every person who has catarrh should give this prescription a trial.

Many Witnesses For Hindu Case

Sikh Temple Opposed to Women in Court in Assault Case

Intimation that possible difficulties may ensue in the local Hindu community if women are brought into court as witnesses in an assault case, was given the City Police Court this morning by Gordon Cameron, Victoria lawyer representing the Sikh Temple.

The charge is one which arose over a disturbance in the temple when Majara and Kartar Singh are alleged to have assaulted Baira Singh. A counter charge of using grossly insulting language has been laid against Baira.

The case was remanded until next Thursday for peremptory hearing. The prosecution has summoned thirty-four witnesses to appear.

W. P. Lawson, appearing for Baira, asked for the adjournment.

Mr. Cameron said he appeared for the temple and understood several Hindu women were being called by the prosecution. The temple, he said, feared possible consequences if the women were called as they would be frightened by being brought into court. He also said there were witnesses from Kapoor who had been called at their own expense and they had already lost work by appearing yesterday.

After Mr. Lawson said these witnesses were not material they were excused by the court. In regard to the statement on behalf of the temple, Magistrate Henry Hall said: "This is a court of law and witnesses must appear if they are summoned. What ever happens after that will be met when it arises."

MORRIS AND OWENS LEAD

Stage Keen Race in Voting
For Awarding of J. E. Sullivan Trophy

New York, Oct. 23. — Glenn Morris and Jesse Owens, outstanding among America's Olympic heroes, are waging a close battle in the preliminary balloting for the 1936 award of the James E. Sullivan Trophy, voted annually to the United States athlete "who by his performance, his example and his influence as an amateur and a man has done most during the year to advance the cause of sportsmanship."

With November 15 the deadline, more than half of the tribunal of 600 national sports writers and leaders have nominated three candidates each to select a successor to last year's winner, Lawson Little, Jr., double winner of the British and United States golf title in 1934-35.

On the basis of returns thus far, the five leading candidates in order follow:

Glenn Morris — 1936 A.A.U. and Olympic decathlon champion and world record holder.

Jesse Owens—Triple Olympic champion and holder of numerous national and world sprint and broad jump records.

John Fischer—Winner of the 1936
United States golf title.

Alice Marble—Winner of the 1936
United States tennis championship.

Helen Jacobs—Winner of the 1936
all-England tennis championship.

SWIMMERS TO TOUR AS PROS

Several Leading United States Aquatic Stars Join
Vaudeville Troupe

New York, Oct. 23.—Sam Synder, Boston promoter, and Fred Walsh, newspaperman, announced yesterday that Dorothy Poynton
Hill, Mrs. Lenora Night Wingard and Dick Degener, member of the United States Olympic swimming team last summer, have signed for a professional tour.

The two Boston men, who are promoting the tour, said contracts are "in the mail" at present for several more stars, and that they have also signed Georgia Coleman, former diving champion, and Jane Fauntz, member of the 1932 team, for the enterprise, to be known as "The National Professional Swimming Troupe."

The announcement of the professional tour recalled the statement by Eleanor Holm Jarrett Wednesday in which she said that if the A.A.U. declares her a professional she would "go on the stage with a vaudeville swimming troupe," which would include Miss Hill, Degener and Mrs.
Wingard among others.

FINE FILM
AT CAPITOL

"Swing Time," With Astaire and Rogers, Opens
Tomorrow

Whirling to new prestige in their sixth consecutive dancing triumph,
Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers set up a new record for themselves to shoot at with their "Swing Time," the most tuneful and original of all their vehicles. Its opening at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow is awaited with eagerness.

Teamed for the first time in "Flying Down to Rio," their featured status in that production was raised to stellar ranking in the successive
"The Gay Divorcee," "Roberta," "Top Hat," and "Follow the Fleet," each of which surpassed its predecessor in popularity.

Now with the delightful Jerome Kern musical setting, brilliant and spectacular features of "Swing
Time," the wing-footed celebrities bid fair to eclipse their previous records as America's favorite screen entertainers.

PLAZA THEATRE

Writers are seldom pleased with the way their characters are portrayed on the screen.

Eric Stanley Gardner, author of the famous Perry Mason detective stories is an exception, however. He says Warren William has completely caught the spirit of his characters on the screen. In fact, after visiting the First National studio, where the company films, "The Case of the Lucky Legs," which is at the Plaza Theatre today, he declared that William Warren portrayed the role even better than he was able to picture it on paper.

ATLAS THEATRE

The oldest building in Gallup, New Mexico, an adobe structure built 125 years ago, was converted into modern movie sound stage by the production crew which made King Vidor's epic film of the early days of the southwest, "The Texas Rangers," now playing at the Atlas Theatre with Fred MacMurray and Jack Oakie in leading roles.

WILLING TO SHARE PRIZE

Canadian Press
Toronto, Oct. 23.—Thirty years since she gave birth to her first baby, Mrs. Grace Baginato prepared today to enter hospital to bear her twenty-third child, the tenth she claims eligible in the stork derby with the $800,000 prize.

As the bizarre race started by Charles Vance Millar neared its end—midnight, October 31—Mrs. Baginato expressed a willingness to share the stake, residue of Millar's estate, should she win. Millar left the amount to the Toronto mother who bore the most children in the ten years following his death, October 31, 1926.

Her opinion was shared by the latest entry in the race, the second in as many days to appear suddenly out of nowhere, Mrs. James Meldum, thirty-three. Claimant to the nine eligibles, she confessed her chief troubles are lack of money to purchase birth certificates and necessity to chase away rats infesting her home.

Mrs. Baginato was but thirteen years old and weighed but eighty pounds when her first baby, William, was born. Yesterday was his thirtieth birthday. He is married and has two children. There was no celebration, however, as his mother made ready to leave her home for Mount Sinai Hospital.

The provincial government, it was hinted today, would take drastic steps to prevent exploitation of the fund, but there was no indication of the in the statements of mothers as to what they would do if they win.

day, is a timely, fast-moving action drama of high adventure among those little known but highly colorful characters who make a business of international intrigue.

The growing spirit of resistance on the part of modern China against the predatory war lords who have subjugated the country is the basis of the story, which presents Gary Cooper again in a soldier-of-fortune role.

This time he is in the ranks of the people's army. Sent to Shanghai to purchase arms with which to resist
General Yang, war lord, he is lured aboard a train by beautiful blonde Madeleine Carroll, whose father is in Yang's employ. He escapes and gets to Shanghai, where he kills the father who is about to flee to America with the money.

Besides the feature, the Dominion programme included a Broadway musical comedy, "Rush Hour Rha-pody," a cartoon comedy in color and the usual Dominion Canadian news.

Don Cossacks
Awarded Honors

In recognition of world-wide artistic achievements the famous Don Cossack Chorus, conducted by the dynamic little Serge Jaroff, has been invited by the U.S. Department of State to accept the official protection of the United States government on reaching American shores to begin their seventh transcontinental tour.
The invitation also includes the right for every man in the chorus to apply for U.S. citizenship.

Wanderers in every civilized country of the world since the tragic defeat of General Wrangell's army in 1921, these famous Russians have, at last, a new home and protection in the United States.

The Don Cossacks will give one of their famous concerts in the Empire Theatre on Monday, November 2.

thriller with dramatic situations to hold interest until the climax is reached. "Hands Across the Table" is a sparkling comedy-romance in which Carole Lombard plays the leading role.
